Viet Soldiers, Students Protest General Ouster

GUNFIRE DEADLY, YET BEAUTIFUL

Tracer bullets in glowing arcs cross the moonlit sky of South Viet Nam during a night battle in deep jungle 25 miles northwest of Saigon, early yesterday as U.S. 1st Division troops tried to root out a well-hidden Viet Cong encampment. ## Helicopters Rescue More Fort Refugees

COMBINED AP & UPI

Government soldiers and students demonstrated today in Da Nang against the ouster of strongman Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi who had ruled the five-province First Corps like a warlord.

The situation was so tense tonight that for the first time in more than 11 months the sprawling U.S. base on the outskirts of Da Nang was put on a yellow, or danger, alert.

Bars and restuarants in downtown Da Nang were closed and military personnel weer ordered to stay in the ir quarters available for any emergency.

Thi was ousted by the ruling military junta in Saigon yesterday in a power struggle with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. He is expected to be sent into political exile abroad, but reports circulated in Da Nang he had been "captured" by government leaders and was being prevented from returning to Da Nang.

RETURN TO FORT

U.S. Marine helicopters flew under Communist guns today to rescue 59 more survivors of the fallen Ashau Special Forces camp on the Laotian frontier.

Five of those rescued in the daring flights were crewmen of two Marine choppers shot down yesterday during a dramatic evacuation of 69 wounded in the final hours of the 39-hour battle before a North Vietnamese regiment overwhelmed the garrison, at an estimated cost of 500 enemy killed.

The rescued Marine airmen included the commander of the helicopter squadron. He was last seen yesterday running for a bunker with a machine gun in his arms. The others were Vietnamese and Montagnard troopers, including three women dependents who lived at the isolated outpost.

REDS INACTIVE

Despite their victory at Ashau, 360 miles north of Saigon, the Communists avoided any new action, though Allied forces tried to force them into combat. Terrorism, however, continued in the Saigon area.

A Viet Cong hurled a grenade at a U.S. military jeep en route from Saigon to Tan Son Nhut airport tonight, injuring one soldier seriously and three others slightly. Four Vietnamese passersby also were hurt by the blast.

At the noon hour yesterday, terrorists exploded two grenades in a bar-restaurant at Binh Duong, 20 miles north of Saigon. Seven persons were killed and 54 wounded, presumably all Vietnamese. The terrorists escaped.

The helicopter flights into the Ashau area were a repeat of the heroism shown by Marine pilots who flew out four Americans and 65 Montagnard tribesmen before the camp's fall late yesterday. Fifteen to 20 Americans and about 360 mountain tribesmen and Vietnamese soldiers were stationed at the camp when it was attacked early Wednesday by a Communist force thought to number 2,500 to 5,000 men.

Some women and children of the mountain troops were reported killed in the bitter fighting.

The Marine helicopters picked up the second batch of survivors while searching the jungles near the camp. The size of the group surprised the pilots who did not think so many persons could have survived the onslaught or evaded capture.

Cranston Decries Too Many Boards

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Directors of special districts must consider "merger and dissolution" if the "incredible jungle of overlapping taxing jurisdictions is to be cleared," State Controller Alan Cranston told a small Marin audience last night.

Speaking at the Civic Center at invitation of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, Cranston declared that special districts so divide fiscal responsibility that the taxpayer is left in a quandary.

HIP POCKET

"For the hapless taxpayer, it's like living in the Amazon, with all sizes and varieties of all around, snapping at his hip pocket."

He said that California has 5,700 taxing jurisdictions. With the many overlapping districts, this gives a total of 19,200 tax code areas. In Marin alone there are 323 tax code areas, he said.

"The taxpayer himself cannot possibly keep track of what is going on," Cranston said. "He would have to be a wizard to know exactly what districts he lives in, who the various directors are, when the various board meetings are held, or what various service district budgets are.

TOTAL IMPACT

"Without this knowledge, he cannot measure the total impact of his taxes. He cannot examine and evaluate the total package of services and costs. He cannot make intelligent or effective protests.

"Nowhere are the facts centralized and available until it is too late—when he has his tax bill in hand. He then has only two choices. He can pay his taxes. Or he can lose his property."

Cranston emphasized that small districts have a needed role and many are performing it well, but he called upon the crowd of 40 last night, mostly directors of districts, to make sure their districts are still performing the function for which they were formed.

BETTER PERFORM

"Ask yourselves if it might better perform that function through merger with a larger district?"

Cranston also urged directors to keep taxpayers informed through news media.

The talk was billed as nonpolitical. Cranston opened by discussing the state tax picture, defending Gov. Edmund G. Brown's accrual budget proposal, and calling for property tax reform.

"I don't believe that the reforms proposed so far are yet adequate," he said.

The accrual proposal would defer a big jump in state taxes for a year, giving the legislature needed time to study and pass reforms, he said.

Jan Paul Dyk, chairman of the local agency formation commission, introduced Cranston.

In the question period, many directors wanted more detailed information on what to do to cure the small district problem. Cranston reiterated study of merger, and dissolution, and use of newspapers. He also suggested that directors be ready to speak in classrooms on the subject of small districts.

"The textbooks largely ignore this phase of government," he said.

Cranston said small districts throughout the state, excluding school districts, take 14 per cent of the property tax bill, but in Marin they take 32 per cent.

This brought a good deal of discussion in the question period. Cranston said he would look further into Marin's district situation to find why it was so.

Johnson Wins Compromises On Tax Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson was assured of his $6-billion tax program today as House and Senate leaders moved to complete action quickly on a compromise version meeting administration specifications.

Passage was assured.

Senate and House conferees yesterday ditched most of the changes the Senate had made in the measure that would have reduced its net yield to the Treasury by $1 billion or more.

However, a limited program to blanket some 300,000 old persons into Social Security was included in the final version.

Major provisions resinstated recently cut excise taxes on cars and phone calls, and speed up collection of personal and corporate income taxes.

A revised withholding plan by which the amounts taken out of paychecks will more closely match tax bills remains in the bill with only minor modifications from the administration recommendation. It will become effective in May, bringing generally lower withholding for low-income taxpayers and somewhat higher withholding for those in middle and upper brackets.

Both branches of Congress planned final votes by Tuesday, meeting the March 15 deadline requested by the President.

The $6-billion tax boost — $1.2 billion in this fiscal year and $4.8 billion in the year starting July 1 — is designed to help finance the Viet Nam war and

Boys Are Held In Burning Of News Sections

Fire, believed to have been deliberately set by two juveniles, destroyed about three tons of San Francisco Sunday Chronicle newspaper sections last night in Tamalpais Valley.

The boys were apprehended and placed in Juvenile Hall by sheriff's deputies before the fire could be extinguished.

Tamalpais Fire Chief Herbert Owen estimated damage at $5,000 to the wood garage at 211 Shoreline Highway and $2,000 to the contents, which included the newspapers and tying machines owned by Chronicle news dealer Conrad Weisensee.

The garage, which Weisensee uses to assemble newspapers and to store them prior to delivery, is owned by Neil Martin, who also owns the adjacent Shoreline Market.

Owen reported the fire, discovered at 7:45 p.m., took firemen about three hours to extinguish since the tons of paper had to be moved out of the building to put out the fire and attempt to save the building.

All of the newspapers had been assembled and were ready for delivery except for front news sections which are placed on last.

Fireman Robert Davison said firemen were already "beat" before the garage fire since they had worked from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. to burn an old two story house in a fire drill. The house, owned by Orville Fry, was at 356 Shoreline Highway.

House Hurries Action On Bill For Viet Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee approved without change today President Johnson's request for $13,135,719,000 in emergency funds, all but a minor fraction earmarked for military and economic operations in Southeast Asia.

The money is for use during the remaining three and one-half months of the present fiscal year, and most of it is to be used to beef up military activities in Viet Nam.

The House will consider the committee's recommendations next Tuesday with prompt passage expected after a brief foreign policy debate.

All but $415 million of the money is for direct military programs. The $415 million includes $275 million for economic aid in Viet Nam, $25 million for the Dominican Republic, $7.5 million each for Laos and Thailand, and $100 million for the President's emergency foreign aid fund.

In a formal report, the committee said the money recommended would provide for increases in military and civilian personnel in Viet Nam, production of aircraft, ordnance, am-

College Board, Church Club Argue, Seek Compromise

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

College of Marin must take over the Newman Club building at 881 College Avenue by summer, college planning coordinator James W. Duke insisted last night.

The college must not touch the building until a new, permanent Newman Club is built elsewhere, insisted Stephen N. Gilardi, president of the Newman Center Board.

"There will have to be a compromise somewhere," commented Mrs. Elizabeth M. Deedy, chairman of the Marin Junior College District Board.

But she and the board members informally agreed to compromise only after several minutes of direct contradictions about facts flew black and forth between board members and Brother Nicholas Kurguz, assistant chaplain of the club.

At the start of the discussion, County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said the college board has the right to take over the building as soon as it wishes, and need not worry about paying for improvements made after Aug. 31, when a condemnation suit was filed.

The argument came over the assertion that everyone involved with the Newman Club, from members to Archbishop Joseph McGucken, was ignorant of the college's intention to buy the property.

The college board last July 15 instructed Maloney to file condemnation proceedings, but the building was sold to the Catholic Archdiecese Aug. 26. The condemnation suit was filed five days later.

"Are you saying everyone in the organization was ignorant of the decision to buy?" asked Trustee Robert E. Oliver.

"Yes," answered attorney Richard A. Clark of San Rafael, representing the archdiocese.

"I find that hard to believe," commented Mrs. Deedy. "The action was taken at a public meeting and members of the Newman Club were present"

"I asked Brother Nicholas if he knew about the college plans . . . " Trustee Kent O. Seymour stated.

"And the answer was 'no,' " shouted Brother Nicholas.

"The answer was 'yes,' " Seymour said. "You sat right in my office . . . "

"That was after the suit was filed," interjected Brother Nicholas.

"Let's simplify this," tried Oliver. "An Aug. 30, before the suit was filed, when you went to see Dr. Epler, did you know or did he tell you the college intendedt to condemn that property?" (He referred to College President Stephen E. Epler).

"No," answered Nicholas. "He said the college wanted the property."

"I have to correct this," Epler broke in. "It's my recollection that you well knew of the July action of the board."

"Brother Nicholas told me in my living room that he had hand-carried the papers to get them through escrow before the notice of the suit could be served," added Oliver.

"In the meeting with the county counsel," Seymour went on, "I asked you why you took that action to buy, and do you remember what you said?"

"I'd rather hear your interpretation," Brother Nicholas said.

"You said you thought or hoped we would be willing to trade and how about the property across the street on Kent Avenue. You said it all in one sentence—all in one breath."

"Perhaps it was a mistake to attempt to cooperate and accommodate these people," concluded Mrs. Deedy. "The district has no interest in acquiring additional land solely for the purpose of trading with the diocese."

Clark said archdiocese officials had never been served

Prince Peter of Greece Visits Students In Marin

Prince Peter of Greece, who is visiting friends in San Rafael, paid a call today at San Domenico School in Sleepy Hollow, but declined to talk with the press.

The 58-year-old prince was introduced to lower school pupils, who curtsied properly in the presence of royalty. He greeted them in Oxford-accented English.

Prince Peter arrived Wednesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Zane Sandom, friends he met in Denmark, at their home in San Rafael. Sandom is regional manager of American Express Agency.

Mrs. Sandom accompanied the prince to San Domenico, where the Sandoms' daughters, Vanessa and Michele, are lower school pupils.

Prince Peter will leave tomorrow from Seattle, to sail from there to Hong Kong on the first leg of a journey home to Greece via Asia.

The second cousin of Greece's King Constantine, he is fourth in line for the Greek throne. He made news in 1964 by declaring in a press conference that Queen Frederika was causing dissension within the royal family, and by terming the monarchy's spending exorbitant.

Rabbi Dies Of Assassin's Shot

DETROIT (UPI)—Rabbi Morris Adler died today, victim of an assasin who shot him down in his synagogue before nearly 1,000 worshipers before fatally shooting himself. He was 59.

Rabbi Adler

Rabbi Adler, one of Detroit's most prominent religious and civic leaders, died 27 days after Richard Wishnetsky, 23, shot him while the rabbi was conducting a bar mitzvah service at suburban Shaarey Zedek, one of the nation's largest synagogues.

Wishnetsky, who shot himself after firing four bullets at the rabbi, died Feb. 16, four days after he climbed to the synagogue pulpit, read a prepared speech telling the congregation its members "make me ashamed I am a Jew" and shot Rabbi Adler.

Employees in the San Francisco International Airport control tower watched as the car sped along Runway 28 and into the water without slackening speed.

Sacramento Union Sold To Copley

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Copley Press Inc., which owns 11 newspapers in Southern California and five in Illinois, bought the Sacramento Union last night for $2.64 million.

Sellers of Sacramento's morning paper were a group of businessmen who had purchased it in 1962.

Stockholders of the Union, whose masthead proclaims it the "Oldest Daily West of the Rockies," voted for the sale after a three-hour meeting. The sale had been recommended by the board of directors.

Leonard Finder, current editor and publisher of the Union, told reporters at the meeting that Copley paid $2.64 million for the paper. The group that took over in 1962 paid considerably less than $2 million, Finder added.

He said that although he plans to leave the Union after an interval, he expects most of the present staff to be retained. Union officials estimated their paper's circulation at about 65,000.

The city's other daily is the afternoon Sacramento Bee, a paper of 169,600 circulation.

'Fantastic' Cut In Assessments Told At Trial

OAKLAND (UPI) — An Oakland manufacturer's 1964 tax evaluation was reduced from $1 million to "something between worthlessness and 1 per cent of the firm's real worth," the jury at the Donald Ferage trial was told yesterday.

Michael J. McLaughlin, former deputy tax assessor for Alameda County, identified the firm as the Mobile Pipe Co. He said the "fantastic" reduction was made after a conference among Feragen, himself, and an unnamed representative of Mobile Pipe.

McLaughlin is also under indictment in connection with the assessment investigation but is appearing as a state's witness.

Feragen is accused of taking $12,455 in bribes from tax consultant James Tooke over a five year period while he was Alameda County assessor.

McLaughlin testified that Tooke frequently "ranted and raved" about how much it was costing him to pay off Feragen.

Calcutta Food Rioting Costs 15 Lives So Far

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Police and rioting mobs clashed for the second consecutive day today in Calcutta suburbs. At least seven rioters were shot and wounded.

With at least 15 persons dead from yesterday's clashes, Communist and other leftist political parties called for new food demonstrations against the government in Calcutta and in surrounding West Bengal State.

The new violence erupted after a leftist-inspired 24-hour general strike was due to end.

"There will be no rest until the people's demands are met," said the united left front of 10 political parties that led the strike.

The front declared that the rice ration in the Calcutta area was not adequate and demanded a judicial inquiry into police firing that killed some demonstrators.

The death toll yesterday, which probably is incomplete, included 14 demonstrators killed by police bullets and one police constable beaten to death by a mob.

Indian army units, rushed to Calcutta earlier in the week, opened fire last night as mobs ran wild in attacks on railroad stations, trains, police stations and vehicles. Some mobs were estimated to be as large as 10,000.

P.C. Sen, West Bengal chief minister, blamed the Communists for the violence.

"It is a political movement launched by the left parties, he said, "and not, as sometimes assumed, merely a demonstration against food and kerosene shortages in the state."

The pro-Peking Communists were one of the 10 political parties that called the general strike. Sen said yesterday it was "more or less complete" over the entire state.

Dutch Unrest Continues Despite Newlyweds' Plea

AMSTERDAM (UPI) —Anti-German demonstrations which marred the wedding of Crown Princess Beatrix and Prince Claus continued today despite an appeal from the royal couple to "give us a chance."

Dutch newspapers condemned the violence which erupted during the day-long ceremonies yesterday uniting the 28-year-old blonde, Holland's future queen, and Claus von Amsberg, 39. He is a former German diplomat, soldier and Hitler Youth member.

At least 19 persons, most of them teen-agers, were arrested for tossing smoke bombs at the wedding procession. Police had to use billy clubs to turn back some of the 2,000 demonstrators and at least five persons were hospitalized. Countless others received less serious injuries.

The debonair Von Amsberg appealed to the Dutch people in a filmed television statement shown last night "to give us the chance to build on a new future together with you all." He admitted, "The Dutch people were given unspeakably much sorrow and great injustice during the last war" but observed that "nobody can undo the past."

The couple's honeymoon spot was not disclosed. There was speculation they were at Prince Bernhard's farm in Africa, or with family friends either in Canada, Mexico or the West Indies.

Warning Given On Deadly Solder

BERKELEY (UPI) — The California Department of Health warned yesterday that silver solders used by welders and hobbyists may contain cadmium, which can cause death if inhaled.

Three cadmium deaths have occurred in the U.S. in recent weeks, including one in California.

The California victim was an industrial welder, but the department said some silver solder used by gun repairmen and hobby enthusiasts contains cadmium.

The department pointed out that silver alloy containing the poisonous cadmium may not be sufficiently labeled to make the user aware of the danger.

Sukarno Facing Army Shakedown

SINGAPORE (AP) — Troops and armored cars cordoned off Indonesian President Sukarno's palace in Jakarta today as Sukarno conferred with top officials of his government on the grave crisis facing him, the Malaysian government radio reported.

The report broadcast from Kuala Lumpur did not elaborate. But sources in Singapore in close touch with Jakarta said "big changes" may come in Indonesia in the next two days.

The sources reported that anti-Communist students who have been attacking government and Communist Chinese offices this week are getting ready for a "D-Day."

Sukarno held an emergency meeting yesterday with leaders of eight political parties and called the situation "grave," Radio Jakarta reported.

Some sources here said the army, which has tacitly supported the students, told Sukarno to get rid of pro-Peking Foreign Minister Subandrio by Saturday.

But another source said no ultimatum had been delivered yet. "When they give him this ultimatum, he is only going to have about three hours to act," the source said.

Sukarno is to hold a meeting Saturday with army leaders. "Indonesia's future is probably going to be decided at these talks," one source said.

Mayor Ordered To List Estates

OAKLAND (AP) — Probate Court ordered John C. Houlihan, who is resigning April 30 as Oakland's mayor, to file by March 24 accountings of two estates he handled as a conservator.

Houlihan, as a private attorney, worked on the estates of Glenn Whitlock, a grocery store chain executive who was killed in a 1956 automobile accident, and Sarilla Whitlock, his widow who died last May 16.

Miss Nina J. Novak, court-appointed administratress, filed a complaint asking the accountings.

Thomas L. Ferro, attorney representing Miss Novak, said $110,298 of Whitlock's $150,000 estate was not accounted for.

Trio Guilty Of Slaying Malcolm X

NEW YORK (AP) — After deliberating more than 20 hours, a Supreme Court jury has convicted three men of first-degree murder in the assassination of black nationalist leader Malcolm X.

Only five silent spectators were seated in the heavily guarded courtroom when George Carter, the Negro foreman, read the verdict at 12:20 a.m. today.

The case had gone to the jury of three white women and nine men, including three Negroes, on Wednesday afternoon after an eight-week trial.

Highlighting those proceedings was the dramatic courtroom confession of Talmadge Hayer, 24, one of the convicted men. Reversing earlier testimony in which he had sworn he was innocent, Hayer admitted taking part in the killing.

But Hayer, of Paterson, N.J., indicted under the name Thomas Hogan, sought to exonerate the other two defendants, Norman 3X Butler, 27, and Thomas 15X Johnson, 30, both of the Bronx.

Malcolm was felled in a hail of shotgun and pistol fire on Feb. 21, 1965.

War Of Independence Bi-Centennial Slated

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Johnson asked Congress today to create a 33-member American Revolution Bicentennial Commission to prepare for celebration of the 200th anniversay of the War of Independence.

"In planning this bicentennial celebration, we must remember that we are celebrating not only the birth of American ideals, but the birth of ideals that today encircle the globe," Johnson said in a letter to the House and Senate.

Under his proposed resolution, the commission would convene within one year after enactment "a national assembly to consider and make recommendations to the commission for the most fitting and appropriate activities to commemorate the bicentennial."

Within two years after enactment of the resolution, the commission would give the president a comprehensive report on its recommendations.

The celebration would run from such time as all arrangements had been made through the end of 1983, at which time the commission would be disbanded.

$200 Fine Is Given In Drunken Driving

Dilliam Richard Deeths, 41, of Ross, was fined $220 and placed on a year's probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Feb. 27 by sheriff's officers on Tiburon Boulevard.

Paul Thomas Torrigino, 28, Daly City, was given a suspended $250 fine on condition that he pay $176, also for drunken driving. He was placed on a year's probation. Torrigino was arrested Wednesday on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol.

Gets Fellowship

Julie M. Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Taylor of 30 Renz Road, Mill Valley, and a senior at Radcliffe College at Cambridge, Mass., has been awarded a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship to assist her in becoming a college teacher. Miss Taylor is a student of anthropology.

Parleys Replace Negroes' March

HERTFORD, N.C. (AP) — Negroes took their employment demands to the conference table today after suspending demonstrations.

Negro leaders in this northeastern North Carolina town agreed last night to discuss their complaints with white leaders. They called off a scheduled protest march after it had proceeded only one block from the First Baptist Church.

The Ku Klux Klan scheduled a rally tonight near Edenton, 15 miles southwest.

Authorities used fire hoses to disperse 200 Negroes parading without a permit Wednesday night and on about 150 high school pupils who held a protest march yesterday.

Strange Solution To Check Theft

HOBBS, N.M. (AP)—Grocery store manager Tommy Cloud took one look at the $75 check presented by a youth for payment.

Cloud was dumbfounded.

The check was a personal one written by Cloud and stolen from his car, he told police.

Lazar Fund Grants Given To Students

Four technical-vocational majors at the College of Marin have been awarded $75 grants today from a fund set up in the memory of shooting victim Michael P. Lazar.

They are James P. Cowan of 75 Allyn Avenue, San Anselmo, Richard J. Dahl of 2041 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael; David D. Muelrath of 21 Linda Avenue, San Rafael, and Alan H. Taniyama of 13 Rocklyn Court Corte Madera.

Muelrath is majoring in industrial arts; the others are majors in machine metals technology.

The scholarship fund was set up by Lazar's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Siegbert Lazar, after the 22-year-old student was shot to death in his apartment last Nov. 5.

Hardy Westmore, a College of Marin janitor, was charged with the killing but was declared insane before the case came to trial. He is now a patient at Atascadero State Hospital.

The scholarship fund has received $2,300 in contributions.

Thieves Get Around In Sausalito Homes

Mrs. John White of Sausalito was in bed yesterday afternoon reading a book when she looked up to see a man, about 20 years of age, peering down at her from the bedroom doorway.

"What are you doing here?" she asked.

"What do you think I'm doing here?" he replied.

Mrs. White, according to police, jumped from her bed and, as she did, the man ran out the door and down the street from the White home at 40 Toyon Lane. Mrs. White reported the unnerving episode occurred between 3:50 and 4:10 p.m.

Burglars were more successful in three other entries made during the day in Sausalito homes, making off with $1,277 in cameras, guns, clothing and television sets.

Robert Rand, who lives in a duplex at 180 Glen Drive, reported that between 9 a.m. and 6:30 p.m., someone pried open a door of his home and stole three cameras, a shotgun, an automatic pistol and clothing, valued at a total of $827.

From Rand's home, police believe, the burglar may have climbed onto an upper balcony to enter an unlocked picture window at 178 Glen Drive. Robert Perring, who lives at that address, reported that someone stole a portable television set, a transistor radio clock and a pair of binoculars valued at $265.

Jason Lotterhand reported to police that, between 2 and 6:15 p.m. yesterday, someone entered his home at 10 Marin Avenue through an unlocked bathroom window and removed a portable television set valued at $185.

Fund Voted For Library Extra Hours

The Larkspur School District Board last night approved spending $12,633 in federal funds to keep school libraries at Neil Cummins and San Clemente schools open week nights and Saturday mornings.

The funds will also be used, said Supt. Milton S. Cohen, to test students and find those lacking in study skills, who then can be enrolled during the extra library hours, he said.

Cohen said plans are to keep the libraries open Monday through Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon. Four teachers will be employed as tutors.

Trustees approved a $10,400 summer school program for students who will be in grades four through eight next year. The summer school, to be held at Neil Cummins School June 22 through July 22, will feature both basic classroom courses and enrichment courses, Cohen said.

Larkspur School District Trustees also:

1. Instructed Cohen to write congressmen and senators asking that funds for "federally impacted" school districts not be deleted this year.

2. Continued study of a preliminary budget.

3. Accepted the resignations of Marilyn Madsen, fifth grade teacher at San Clemente School, who will teach abroad next year, and of custodian Martin Mendolla.

Burglary Charge Jails Machinist

A San Anselmo machinist was placed in county jail early today after reportedly admitting he stole an assortment of tools last night from as hed in Tamalpais Valley.

Kirk Kneedler Taylor, 28, of 482 Scenic Avenue, was booked in jail by sheriff's deputies on a charge of burglary.

Sgt. John Castellani of Mill Valley police, patrolling on Miller Avenue, stopped Taylor at 12:58 a.m. because he had but one tail light on his 1939 Cadillac.

While talking to Taylor, Castellani said he saw the tools on the floor of the car. Taylor first said they belong to a friend in Inverness. Later, said the officers, he admitted he stole them from a shed near the garage which burned last night at 211 Shoreline Highway. The tools included an electric saw, three drills, a sander, a box of hand tools and a gas welding outfit.

Two Deputies Are Hired For Marin City

Two of four additional sheriff's deputies approved by the county board of supervisors to give Marin City more police protection heve been hired. The other two are expected to be chosen next week.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said Frederick W. Garrison, 22, a member of his sheriff's reserve group for three weeks, and Al Ulysses Brown, 31, of San Francisco, will be assigned to the Marin City substation. Both are Negroes. They bring the total of Negro deputies on the department to three.

The sheriff said the remaining two deputies will be chosen from his list of reserve officers. He emphasized he has always been seeking qualified Negro aplicants as deputies and there is on set quota. "I will continue to select qualified men regardless of race, color or creed," he said.

The third Negro, Bill Joseph Dews, 32, has been with the department since May of 1964 and is assigned to the 4 p.m. to midnight shift at Marin City.

Garrison, of 14 Milwood Street, Mill Valley, started yesterday on the 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. shift. He served four years in the Marine Corps, then was an apprentice carpenter in Mill Valley prior to being hired as deputy. He is married.

Brown, who will start next week on the 7 p.m. to 3 a.m. shift, has been a case worker with the Homewood Terrace Jewish Child Care Agency in San Francisco since September of 1961. He attended the University of Denver in 1953-54 and served a two-year hitch with the Army. He also is married.

Military personnel strength would be hiked from 2,990,000 to 3,103,000.

Approximately $1.8 billion of the total of $7 billion allotted for military hardware procurement would be used to replace aircraft lost in Viet Nam.

The overall appropriation includes the actual funding of the $4.8 billion Viet Nam battlefield bill passed earlier after extensive foreign policy debate between congressional "hawks" and "doves," plus other bills approved by congressional conference committees yesterday.

with notice of the suit, so he felt all improvements made up to the time of service would have to be paid for by the district.

Gilardi told the board the Newman Club board has named a negotiating committee, headed by John Cahill of Ross, but including Roger P. Garety, former district attorney; Rev. Donald H. Baldwin of the First Methodist Church, San Rafael; Rev. John O'Connor, head of the Marin Catholic Social Service; Rev. Stephen McCabe, Newman Center chaplain; Gilardi and Brother Nicholas.

Mrs. Deedy named Seymour and Oliver to officially represent the district in negotiations. (Seymour is a real estate broker).

Gilardi said the center's board was working as hard as possible to find permanent quarters, but the club could not move again into temporary quarters.

Earlier in the evening, the board heard a plea from Jack Dalpino, operator of the Tidewater Associated service station at College Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, next door to the Newman Center, asking that the college not purchase that property.

He said it would not be needed and would be a waste of taxpayers' money.

The board listened quietly and then, without comment, voted to condemn the parcel. Duke later showed a map of proposed development with a building for business classes on the service station site.

also dampen any inflationary tendencies.

The Senate had voted to reduce sharply the tax rollback by limiting it to long-distance calls. But the conferees agreed to drop this amendment. The telephone exise tax, accordingly, will revert to 10 per cent from 3 per cent, including calls made in March.

The other major revenue-affecting amendment was a Senate rider that would have given Social Security benefits to 1.8 million persons over 70 who had not contributed to the system. This would have cost the Treasury $790 million.

The conference instead devised a plan for persons 72 and older. The number of beneficiaries was further reduced by eliminating those with federal, state or local government or railroad retirement pensions or receiving welfare payments.

The benefit also was reduced from $44 a month and $66 for a couple to $35 for an individual and $52.50 for man and wife. The changes reduced the first-year cost of the program to $90 million.

Astronauts Pass Physical Checkup

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Astronauts Neil Armstrong and David Scott got medical clearance today for launch Tuesday on the Gemini 8 space spectacle that calls for four historic orbital hookups and a record "walk" around the world.

"They're in great shape . . . very much ready," said Dr. Fred Kelley, a Gemini flight surgeon at the end of the pilots' last major medical test before blastoff.

Better Jungle Boots On Way To Troops

By DONALD ZYLSTRA
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Improved jungle boots and special lightweight combat uniforms have been developed and are being speedily delivered to U.S. troops in Viet Nam, military supply officers here say.

"When new lightweight cotton poplin uniforms and a superior jungle boot proved themselves, we faced the task of obtaining them for all troops in record time," supply spokesmen said.

New poplin clothing—about half the weight of the standard summer fatigue uniforms—was tested by 500 to 600 Special Forces troops initially assigned to Viet Nam. This group also wore the new light jungle boot in limited test versions.

Both items proved highly desirable in Viet Nam's humidity and heat and are now standard for virtually all combat troops there.

"They rapidly became a status symbol," a supply officer explained. "Personnel who didn't have them clamored for the new equipment."

The centralized Defense Supply Agency (DSA), which buys these items for all armed services, was faced with the urgent task of finding industry sources to weave millions of yards of the cloth on short notice and then to get enough garment manufacturers to cut it and make it up into hundreds of thousands of uniforms.

Preparing for the production of similar quantities of the new jungle boot was an even thornier task.

First invitations to bid on substantial production of the boots were issued last April. By August, manufacturers had converted facilities tooled up, and in September the first sizable deliveries were being made.

This new composition footwear developed by the Army requires a special process for molding the uppers directly to the soles—in a special heat treatment operation which requires no stitching or nails. Shoe manufacturers had to acquire special tools and machinery to produce them.

A green nylon duck fabric —replaces leather in most portions of the boot's uppers, promoting faster drying and longer shoe life. Until very recently, the characteristic green fabric identified only combat personnel in Viet Nam. But soon all troops there will be wearing them.

A special removable flexible steel insole is provided in the boot as a protection against sharp bamboo stakes planted along trails by the Viet Cong. "Troops who leave them out soon convert to the idea of wearing them in combat," a field officer observed wryly.

More than a million of the new light cotton uniforms and a similar number of pairs of the jungle boots are now on order, with first supplies of both being delivered by manufacturers. Because of the high priority of these items, they are being airshipped to Viet Nam as fast as they are available.

Persistent reports that Viet Nam troops have been plagued with boots whose soles separate from the uppers, leaving the wearer virtually barefooted, are the subject of heated rebuttals among military supply officers.

The reports weren't denied outright, but supply personnel insist that where this occurred, it was largely the soldier's own fault.

"Stitching in the regular boot is specially treated with a silicone preparation to make it resistant to mildew, rot and dampness," a spokesman explained. "Many men purchased non-regulation boots resembling regular issues, outside service supply channels.

"These items take a more brilliant shine than the standard boot but their untreated stitching deteriorated rapidly under Viet Nam conditions. In most instances the trouble occurred with this non-regulation 'Hollywood' footwear.

Larger Redwood Park Supported

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Harrison A. Williams, Jr., D-N.J., joined yesterday in calling for a larger redwood national park than proposed by President Johnson.

Williams became the 17th senator to co-sponsor legislation calling for a 90,000-acre park in Northern California rather than a 42,000-acre park proposed by the administration.

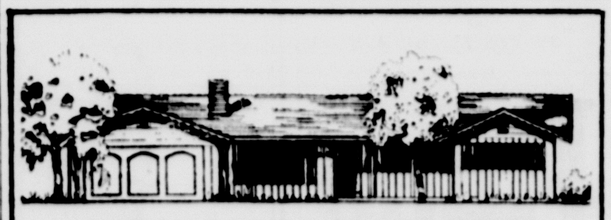

The administration bill was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif. The legislation calling for the larger park is being pushed by Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont., and Rep. Jeffery Cohelan, D-Calif.

SCIENTISTS RETURN' — Heavily bearded NASA space scientists Hayden Grubbs Jr. (left) and Michael Vaccaro receive congratulations from their wives in Minneapolis, Minn., yesterday after emerging from an 18-day test of the "moonbuggy" astronauts may use to explore the surface of the moon. ## Marin Commercial Loan Interest May Be Higher Interest rates on most commercial loans are expected to be higher in Marin County.

Following the pattern set yesterday by major banks on the East Coast, which raised their "prime" lending rate from 5 to 5½ per cent, local banking officials expect "a corresponding raise across the board."

"The prime rate is the rate to large borrowers and there are probably not very many such loans in Marin," said Burton R. Kirchner, vice president of Bank of Marin. "But everything is based on the prime rate, so loans in all other categories should move up at least one-half of one per cent."

Daniel C. Davis, vice president and general manager of Wells Fargo Bank in San Rafael, said he expected unsecured loans under $10,000 to bring up to 7½ or 8 per cent.

"Rates now are probably the highest they have been since 1928," said Byron W. Leydecker, president of Redwood National Bank. "But this has been going on since the Federal Reserve Board raised its discount rate last December."

Yesterday's prime or minimum interest raise was the second increase since December, when banks went from 4½ to 5 per cent following the Federal Reserve Bank's increase of one-half of one per cent on loans to borrowing banks.

Patrolman Boasts Stork Wisdom

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Patrolamn Thomas Stack has a specialty on the force.

Stack has been a patrolman for 15 years and has delivered nine babies. When a maternity call comes to headquarters, his superiors usually call for Stack.

The patrolman has five children of his own, none delivered by Stack. "My wife would take one look at me and say, 'Scram!' " he says.

MOON BUGGY WORKS

Test Is Successful, But Expert Fears Russ Ahead

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) —The U.S. race to the moon moved a step ahead yesterday after two bearded scientists emerged from a tiny "moonbuggy" in man's first simulated 18-day visit to the moon.

However, Dr. Wernher von Braun, who was there to greet the men, said the United States is in danger of losing the race to the moon with the Soviet Union.

Von Braun, 54, German-born director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Marshall Spaceflight Center at Huntsville, Ala., said, "unless we keep running like hell there is a good chance of getting licked. They have a very good program."

The scientists, Michael J. Vaccaro, 38, and Haydon Y. Grubbs Jr., 35, said they could have spent another week in the cramped "moon vehicle" without difficulty.

Grubbs said one of the main things they proved was that men could live and work in a lunar vehicle 10 feet long by three feet wide by five feet high for a considerable period of time.

"Eighteen days is definitely not the limit men can live and work in a vehicle this size," Vacarro said. "Another week would have been no problem."

The tes was conducted for NASA at Honeywell, Inc., systems and research division plant.

Von Braun said the purpose of a trip to the moon won't be just to put a space ship on the moon and bring it home but to collect scientific data. That was the point of the test.

It was assumed the two scientists had reached the moon when their test began Feb. 20. The 18 days they spent in the so-called "Lunex II" was to simulate a tour of the moon, examining the rocks and minerals and surface of the moon.

Because King Charles II of England once bumped his head on a wardroom beam, British naval officers are not required to stand when drinking a toast to the king.

Gallinas Area Park Proposal Given Nod

Preliminary plans for development of a park at Descanso and Hacienda ways in Santa Venetia were approved last night by directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District.

Director Herbert C. Belben Jr. said there was no protests. Park plans brought considerable argument last summer and fall. Since then, directors named a citizens committee to develop plans.

The committee, headed by director Dave Banfield, came up with plans for two tennis courts, a tot lot and a grass play area last night. Cost for the development will range from $22,000 to $28,000, Belben said.

The committee was asked to develop more detailed plans and more precise cost estimates.

The committee recommended against leasing space in the Gallinas Shops for a recreation center, saying there did not appear to be enough interest.

Retirement Plan Benefit Section Change Is Sought

Members of the Marin County Retirement Board yesterday unanimously agreed to seek special legislation that would do away with the mandatory surviving spouse benefit in the county's retirement system.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, a member of the board, has long questioned the mandatory requirement that provides the surviving spouse with 60 per cent of salary. The county pays the entire cost of this provision, about 30 per cent of the cost for the entire system.

Under the change proposed yesterday, employees could still make provision for survivors by adjustment in their own benefit plans.

James Goodale Heads '66 Grand Jury

The 1966 Marin County Grand Jury, composed of 19 members including seven housewives and three real estate men, was sworn into office yesterday afternoon by Judge Thomas F. Keating, presiding judge of Marin Superior Court.

The magistrate promptly named James S. Goodale, 69, retired San Rafael oil distributor and one-time city councilman and planning commissioner, as foreman.

In a brief organizational meeting which followed, the panel temporarily selected Mrs. Jean H. Smith of Kentfield, as secretary. It also decided that regular meeting dates will be at 1:30 p.m. on the second Wednesday of each month, and 7:30 p.m. on each fourth Wednesday. Meeting site will be the San Rafael courthouse.

The panel was drawn from a list of 25 names submitted earlier by superior court judges.

JAMES S. GOODALE
Chosen to head new jury

Goodale, of 27 West Crescent Drive, San Rafael, was a Marin retail distributor for the Union Oil Co. until his retirement in early 1964 after 50 years with the firm. He was a member of the San Rafael Planning Commission prior to his election to the city council in April of 1953. He resigned from the council in October of 1955. He has been on the San Rafael Library Board for three years, and is executive vice president of Marin Art and Garden Center.

Other panel members are Mrs. Marilyn Crowell, housewife; Arthur W. Feidler, retired; Edward Halperin, retired real estate broker; and Alan H. Scurfield, real estate broker, all of San Rafael.

Mrs. Jean F. Rockwell, housewife, Fairfax; Charles Howard Allen, real estate broker; Mrs. Eileen M. Cassidy, housewife, and Mrs. Smith, Kentfield.

Mrs. Anna M. Plummer, housewife, Marin City; Nick Kobseff, restaurant owner, Nicasio; Bob Robert Johnson, civil engineer, Novato; Elmer W. Martinelli, rancher, Point Reyes Station; Ragnvald Bernt, retired insurance executive, Ross.

Mrs. Helen B. Dewees and Mrs. Lois E. Duhamel, housewives, and William R. Davis, service station operator, San Anselmo.

Frank Bosl, bank manager, Sausalito, and Mrs. Harriet D. Robbins, housewife, Tiburon.

Novato Chamber Circulates Telephone Rate Petitions

Novato Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday voted to circulate petitions favoring "extended area" telephone service between Western California Telephone Co. and the San Rafael exchanges of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The board hopes to get 500 signatures on petitions to present to the State Public Utilities Commission at a hearing at 10 a.m. March 29 at the State Building in San Francisco.

Phillip Westergaard was named to head a "parade of homes" committee to promote Novato homes. The dates and methods of promotion are to be worked out by the committee.

The board voted to donate $65 to the Novato-La Paz project, to bring children from La Paz in Baja California to Novato for five weeks next summer.

Ballots for the board of directors election will be mailed to members on April 20, with return date setf or May 4.

The chamber may lose its lease on its free parking lot adjacent to De Borba's at Sherman and Grant avenues because of the increase in taxes. Roscoe Morgan was named to try to get owners of adjacent business to share the cost of the increase.

'Inside Daisy Clover' Is Really Inside Tinseltown

By LES DARD

Let's take a look at what's to see this weekend around Marin area movie houses:

RAFAEL AND SEQUOIA THEATERS

"Inside Daisy Clover" is now on screen at both theaters, a most unusual and intriguing bill, set in Hollywood.

Natalie Wood, Christopher Plummer, Robert Redford and Roddy McDowell in this almost sinisterly comic tale of a young starlet's rise to fame.

Plummer plays a malevolent, implacable producer and manipulator who sets out to make 15-year-old Natalie "America's Valentine."

The story takes place in a two year period — 1936-1938 — in which she not only captures the hearts of millions, as they say, but gets her self married to a charming, schizophrenic, bisexual star who is fed up with the whole business of starmaking. Robert Redford is excellent in the role.

In a way, the film depicts a dream world—a world of limousines and luxury where no one eats, sleeps or pays his bills. A world where there are no crowds on the streets — and where the only escape for an entangled girl like Natalie is into sanity.

This is a remarkable film, but very off-beat.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Starting Sunday is the fascinating drama, "Judith," for adults only.

The story is set in the Israel of 1948 — just before the British depart. The characterizations are as varied as they are interesting.

There's Jack Hawkins as a leathery British major, and Peter Finch as the leader of a feverishly nationalistic kibbutz.

But most of the attention centers on lovely Sophia Loren, the star of the show. She plays an Austrian Jewess who is smuggled into the country to search for her hated husband—an ex-Nazi who now works with the Arab tank corps.

This is a powerful production, not only in the performances, but in the courageous Israeli spirit that it so admirably conveys.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Science fiction a la Marcello Mastroianni and Ursula Andress is held over in the top flight adult spoof, "The Tenth Victim."

In the future, our enlightened descendants have managed to eliminate the blood lust. They have replaced it with a ritual aptly titled The Great Hunt — in which one group of the populace, The Hunters, try to kill off another, equally powerful group, The Victims, and vice-versa.

When a member of either group gets 10 corpses to his credit, he (or she) can retire.

As the film opens, beautiful Ursula Andress dispatches her ninth citizen. Then she is after the prize, "the tenth victim" of the title.

Enter, Mastroianni, first-class candidate for the honor. A gloriously original "battle of the titans" ensues.

Co-featured is "The Third Secret."

NOVATO THEATER

David Niven deftly plays a reluctant espionage agent in "Where the Spies Are," a brand new comedy-suspense entry now playing. As a country doctor with a penchant for rare autos, Niven is hardly the likely candidate for the intricate spy vs. spy game. But when offered a vintage Cord for replacing a murdered agent in Lebanon, he can't resist.

Also featured is Elvis Presley's "Harum Scarum."

LARK THEATER

Making the rounds again is "Tom Jones," the comedy triumph of 1963 and winner of the Best Picture Oscar.

Albert Finney stars in this raucous rendering of Henry Fielding's classic novel, and all its excesses and lustiness are here to be relished.

Finney plays Squire Alworthy's adopted son. Hot-blooded, mischievous and irreverent, he is irresistible to women and ever in search of life's joys.

Filmed in the English countryside, the picture seems remarkably authentic in capturing the hard-living, hard-drinking bawdiness of the 18th Century — in color.

101 DRIVE-IN

The action and the gags come as fast as the jets overhead in "Boeing, Boeing," now on screen (through Saturday night).

Tony Curtis and Jerry Lewis team up in Paris as newspapermen, and each is more occupied with the distaff than with his dispatches.

Curtis is engaged to three airline stewardesses: Dany Saval, Christine Schmidter and Susanna Leigh. While he's cuddled up with one beauty, the other two are flying around the world dreaming of him. Works fine — until the airlines switch to jets and high speed schedules.

FAIRFAX THEATER

An international "Who's Who" of comedy talent is assembled for the big laugh-fest — "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines." It is held over.

BABE IN BLANKET—Christopher Plummer and Natalie Wood play Hollywood producer and manufactured star, respectively, in a yacht scene from "Inside Daisy Clover," now playing at the Rafael and Sequoia theaters.

San Francisco Ballet members performing will be Sally Bailey, Eloise Tjomsland, Marolyn Gyorfi, Barbara Begany, Deanne Rowland, Lee Fuller, Carlos Carvajal, William Johnson, Allan Bergman, and Davic Coll.

Extra Lo Assessments Practice Called Legal

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Max J. Newstat has testified in Russell Wolden's bribery trial that assessments of inventory and equipment as low as 5 or 10 per cent of market value was legal and valid in certain instances.

Newstat, 66, a former aide in the San Francisco assessor's office, is a prosecution witness who has testified that at least 40 firms received $32 million in assessment reductions. Some firms, the witness says, gave gifts for the reductions.

Wolden is accused of taking 10 bribes and conspiring to cut assessments for bribes. His lawyer is James Martin MacInnis.

MacInnis had drawn the following statements from Newstat in yesterday's testimony:

Assessing Regal Pale Brewing Co. equipment at 10 per cent of its market value was "proper and fair" because the machinery was obsolete. Earlier Newstat testified Regal paid $2,000 a year to the assessor.

Assessing Washington Packing Corp. inventory at 5 per cent of market value was proper because the firm had found tins of contaminated tuna in the stock on hand.

And Wolden "had never ordered the staff not to audit specific accounts," but Newstat said he always consulted Wolden before making an audit on certain firms.

"If the taxpayer was a friend of mine," Newstat said, "or of Wolden's or a campaign contributor (to Wolden) . . . he would be shown consideration."

During the day's session, MacInnis cited trial judge Lewis Drucker of Los Angeles for what MacInnis called misconduct in an unusual courtroom maneuver.

Drucker had admonished MacInnis to "stop making comments when you ask questions" and "stay on your side of the courtroom — you are blocking the court's view of opposing counsel."

MacInnis reddened and said, "I object to your remarks. I want the record to show my objection."

Jazz Quintet Due To Return

The Paul Winter Quintet will present a modern jazz concert at 8 p.m. net Friday in Angelico Hall at Dominican College, San Rafael.

It will be the second appearance on the campus in a year for the group, which has appeared on campuses throughout the country, as well as making recordings and doing television programs.

The Winter group's music is easily recognized due to the unusual instrumentation. Winter, who plays saxophone, is joined by guitar, flute, bass and drums.

Mrs. Stevenson Held Incompetent

CHICAGO (AP) — A Circuit court jury has ruled Mrs. Ellen Borden Stevenson, former wife of the late U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, is incompetent to handle her own affairs.

The ruling yesterday was the result of a petition by Mrs. Stevenson's three sons and mother that the court name a conservator.

Mrs. Stevenson's sons testified that her assets dwindled from $400,000 to $100,000. They said she now owes $80,000.

Mrs. Stevenson, 55, divorced Stevenson in 1949 when he was governor of Illinois. They had been married 21 years.

Conjugal Bathing Protests Heeded

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Husbands and wives may continue taking sauna baths together, a Board of Supervisors committee decided yesterday.

An ordinance proposed by the Police Department would have prohibited men and women bathing together in the city's 10 public establishments.

Alfred A. Finnala protested yesterday to the Supervisors' Fire, Safety and Police Committee that husbands and wives had been bathing together at his establishment for half a century.

Supervisors ruled the proposed ordinance would have to be changed.

Overdose Reported

Mrs. Norma Jean De Curtonf, 53, of Stinson Beach, was reported today still in poor condition at Marin General Hospital after she reportedly took an overdose of pills.

To Tell Of Trip

Board Allocates School Funds

The state board of education yesterday allocated funds under the federal elementary and secondary education act for "compensatory education" totaling $2,775 for Bolinas-Stinson Union and Point Reyes school districts.

The sum of $2,018 allotted to the Bolinas-Stinson district is to be used to create a craft center to include activities such as pottery at Bolinas School.

At Point Reyes, plans are to use the $757 anti-poverty bill money for a television set, a phonograph, an added set of reference books, and to start a permanent library.

Eddie Arcaro won $30,039,543 in 31 years as a jockey.

Shotgun Stolen

A double-barrelled shotgun, valued at $150, was reported stolen from Marin Auction Gallery, 605 Irwin Street, San Rafael, yesterday. Owner Jack Selzer, who reported the theft to police, said a microphone, value unknown, was also taken during business hours.

Missing Teeners Are Located

Novato's five missing teenagers were located yesterday afternoon, but not picked up, according to Novato police.

James Finton Pate telephoned his mother, Mrs. Marie K. Pate, at 1457 Cambridge Street, asking that she pick him up in Fresno, police said.

The four other missing teenagers were seen by Douglas County, Nev., deputy sheriffs on the south shore of Lake Tahoe. All were picked up and held for their parents except Pvt. Reginald Bruce Johnson, absent without leave from the Army at Fort Ord, and Ronald A. Robertson of 4 Santiago Court, police reported.

According to the Douglas County sheriff's office, there were other unidentified teenagers from Novato with them.

New Works Appeal Even To Opossums

DETROIT (AP) — The latest trend appears to be toward edible art.

First there were the amateur artists in New York last week who painted with peanut butter and ate the results.

Now comes a group of suburban Detroit school children who create masterpieces with macaroni, beans, lentils, sugar cubes, vitamin pills and coffee grounds.

Only they haven't eaten their masterpieces. The mice got there first.

Harold Smart, 39, an art teacher at Brookside School, a private elementary school, said some of the youngsters' earlier efforts were mutilated by mice while stored in the building.

"We got some mousetraps and started over," Smart said.

Then there was the possum that escaped from the nearby science department and lived for a time on the students' artwork. "We caught him coming down to enjoy the art, one way or the other," Smart said.

The idea, the teacher says, is to show the 7-to 12-year-olds in his classes that "you can find beauty in many things."

The murals are made by gluing food particles — or darn near anything else — to stiff pieces of cardboard.

Young Bruce Margulis, for example, tried to make a dog. To his surprise, he ended up with a cat — a tall one with vitamin pills for teeth, beads for eyes, sugar cubes for cheeks and a rubber band for a mouth.

Lucy Williams, 10, on the other hand, made a lion outlined in macaroni, with marbles for eyes and a sunflower seed for a nose. The background is of speckled pinto beans. In one corner is a bowl made of brown beans.

"That's for milk," Lucy explains. "Lions get thirsty, don't they?"

Spring Weather Starts Early

Warm, spring-like weather came to Marin County today, just 10 days ahead of the official first day of spring.

Instead of the forecast rain clouds, a bright sun was putting temperatures into the middle 60s before noon.

Occasional rain is expected by the Weather Bureau to arrive tonight or tomorrow. Temperatures will continue mild.

Tulsa won its fourth consecutive major college passing title in 1965.

Two Surprised In Break-In

Two 16-year-old boys were caught in the act today attempting to break into a service station on Loch Lomond Drive, San Rafael, police reported.

Patrolman Matt Conlin surprised the youths at 12:10 a.m. and took them in custody.

Police said the youths admitted a similar offense at a service station in Santa Venetia and were being questioned about an attempted break-in at Peacock Gap Country Club last night.

Nothing appeared to have been stolen from the club although a check was being made into the contents of vending machines, according to police.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Sonoma County Offers Variety Of Chances For Ride, Dinner

If you should get tabbed to set up a dinner and "mystery ride" route with some mileage attached to it — don't overlook the many possibilities provided by our northern neighbor, Sonoma County.

Faced with just such a problem for a busload of 15 couples last weekend, I was able to keep the entire cargo in the dark over a zigzag course until we reached our destination. And even then some of the members were so confused they didn't know where we were. Of all places, right in Santa Rosa!

Without going over the entire route, it included such divergent highways as Lakeville Road, Stony Point Road, Highway 116 to Sebastopol and the Guerneville Road back to Santa Rosa's Coddingtown Shopping Center.

Only stopoff enroute was for refreshments at a century-old landmark on Stony Point and Roblar roads, about seven miles northwest of Petaluma — the Washoe House. This weathered old inn claims the distinction of being the oldest surviving roadhouse in California. I can't verify or dispute that, but it was built in 1859 and was a waypoint on the old stage route connecting Petaluma and Valley Ford.

Present owner Tony Andreas has been there 15 years and operates it as a bar and restaurant. He opens during the week at 4 p.m. (dinners served from 6 p.m.) and on Sundays at noon (dinners from 3 p.m.). Just two complete dinners on the menu: chicken at $2.50 and steak at $4.

THE PLACE still retains a few artifacts of its early days, and the original dancehall upstairs, though in disrepair, has some interesting pieces. But if you have in mind buying any of them, Tony's asking prices aren't exactly what the average antique collector has in mind. You might get him down by haggling.

We weren't stopping here for dinner. I'd made reservations at the Gold Wagon in Santa Rosa. Coddingtown Shopping Center is where the Emporium has its new store under construction, scheduled to open this summer, and reminds me of Northgate in Marin as it was before the Emporium opened there. Lots of parking space available at this stage.

But the Gold Wagon is a very comfortable and attractive restaurant.

It's owned by Tony Vicini and Klaus Neumann who also own Los Robles Lodge nearby. You may remember Tony. At one time he was manager at Rancho Rafael when John Richey had it. Prices are very reasonable, both for lunches and dinners, and the food was pronounced top quality by our group. Young Bill Hall does a nice management job here.

The restaurant is closed Sundays but open throughout the rest of the week from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. The bar and lounge is open until 2 a.m. There's live entertainment on an elevated stage above the bar Friday and Saturday nights. Strolling flamenco guitarist Harry Alto is on six nights a week. Incidentally he is the father and also the instructor of Glori Jacobson who has been playing at Ramona's in San Rafael.

Upstairs banquet facilities at the Gold Wagon will accommodate up to 300. There's a stage almost the full length, and the room can be subdivided in three parts.

FOR THE TIME BEING, Chez Dumont — or Pandora — whichever you prefer to use for this reopened San Anselmo dinery, will also be open on Sunday. This makes a seven days a week schedule. Idea is to determine which day is the least active and close then. Same hours: 5 to 10 p.m.

So far traffic has been pretty good here, with a lot of it coming from the city. Already there have been some three-time repeaters.

One thing about Pandora (this name should be official in another week or so)—don't expect to be fed here at bargain rates. Pandora is intended to be a haut cuisinery, with quality food that doesn't come cheaply. See that your wallet is amply stuffed with verdant green.

Several more improvements are planned. Lights for the west part of Spaulding Avenue should go up in a few days.

BLACK POINT INN, where Al and Joe Louie prepare their prized Cantonese dinners, has live music regularly now on Friday and Saturday nights for dancing. Present group is a trio called the Innkeepers, offering pop style tunes. Otherwise, with Jess Fisher's big stereo equipment, you can dance there just about any night.

CURRENT ENTERTAINERS Friday and Saturday nights at Rancho Nicasio call themselves the Buddies, since they have been playing together off and on for 10 or 15 years. But they are seriously considering changing it to Frankie and Johnnie, inasmuch as their names are Sam Franco and Johnnie Vendigni. This would give them a built-in theme song. You might let them know what you think.

They are an accordion and drums duo, playing popular pieces and old standards—not much rock and roll. Their music has been so well received it's possible they may also play on Sundays later. They used to be at Bimbo's.

THE OFFICE in Mill Valley, recently taken over by John Ebner and Claude Ross, is going all out for Mexican fare instead of having it only on alternate Tuesdays. John and Claude have acquired an expert in this field in the person of Mrs. Antonia Moya from the Southwest. She also knows what's cooking south of the border.

Chile verde, chile colorado, home made tamales with their own masa—and many other such items.

AND THE MENU at Le Chalet Basque, Santa Venetia, is undergoing extensive changes under happy-go-lucky chef Bernard Epstein as he warms up to the kitchen equipment here.

There are now something like 25 dinner selections on regular order. Among the new additions are four veal dishes: A medallion with Madeira sauce, chanterelle Chalet, scallopini and skobliamka (Russian). Another Russian dish is chicken tchikambili, and Bernard also has breast of chicken cordon bleu and breast of chicken Chalet.

Beef Stroganoff is new; so is the shish kebab. Duck is served every night—aux olives, a l'Arange or aux cerises (cherries). A rotation of Friday seafood specials may bring you swordfish, sole veronique, coquille St. Jacques or koulibiac of salmon. The last is Bernard's prize winning dish. All of the foregoing are at $4 on the complete dinner, and about the only thing higher on the menu is the New York steak. Chateau still serves the ris de veau, frog legs, coq au vin, beef Bourguignon and its other regular dishes.

ANOTHER MENU expansion has occurred at King Cotton in San Rafael, recently taken over by Jim Bigelow of Sam's Anchor Cafe in Tiburon—with the addition of several daily lunch specials in the $1.25-$1.95 range—short ribs, stuffed peppers, shrimp curry and others.

Hostess Corky Jones at Sam's has been promoting again. Now she has Sam's famous Tiburon clam chowder packed to take out—in pints, quarts or magnums.

And still bearing her name on the menu at Rubini's in Fairfax is "Corky's Seafood Platter," a combination dish that made good and is still a perennial favorite. Components are sauteed scallops, French fried prawns, clam bake, sole and seafood salad—all prepared individually.

Dining room backdrop at Rubini's right now is a beautiful scene out the window where the trees are in full bloom.

CONNIE AND JUANITA Rinehard are building up their car hop service at Juanita's Taco House, 2058 Fourth Street, San Rafael: Mondays through Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Drive-in space is at the rear. Free coffee or soft drinks on Saturday.

ONE DAY A YEAR—and on one day only—does Peter Alioto's Arbordale in Sausalito serve corned beef and cabbage.

You guessed it—next Thursday, St. Patrick's Day.

THE ARK at Waldo Point has opened its Topside Lounge and is featuring recording star Kelly Steele, a rock-folk singer who writes her own music and lyrics — appearing Monday through Thursday nights. Gil Cardona's quintet plays Friday and Saturday nights and the Ted Shafer Six gives out old time Dixie tunes Sundays from 4 to 9 p.m.

College Trustees Veto Teacher Elections For Department Heads

Faculty leaders at the College of Marin last night watched their plan to elect their own department heads and division chairmen shot down by trustees.

First, however, several teachers arose from the audience to explain that they were by no means unanimous in support of the plan.

Business instructor J. D. Donlon Jr., president of the Academic Senate, explained the proposal, saying that election of department heads would improve communication between faculty and administration.

He said the board would still make the final decision on who would be a department head, as in the past, but the name presented would come from the teachers, not from College President Stephen E. Epler.

Trustee Robert E. Rodgers asked, "Is it logical that the board would refuse to appoint?"

"Yes, it's entirely possible," Donlon answered.

Board Chairman Elizabeth M. Deedy disagreed. "The faculty would feel the board was disregarding their judgment," she said.

"The only thing you could depend upon is the professionalism of the faculty," Donlon answered.

"You're inferring the administrator is not a professional," retorted Trustee Kent O. Seymour.

Physics instrutcor Roger S. Strout, who said he would not take the job of department head "on a bet," reported that in faculty discussions of the partment heads and division chairmen receive no extra pay, election plan, teachers continually asked each other who could get elected, not who was qualified for the job.

He said Epler should not have a difficult time finding a man for division chairman because there were only about 12 faculty members on campus qualified.

Donlon also asked that debut instead be given a lighter class load. Mrs. Deedy said that proposal may have merit and was under study.

Epler, in flatly opposing the Academic Senate plan said the reduction of time would be costly, requiring additional teachers.

Weaver Meadows, division chairman for business and economics, said the election proposal violated principles of sound management. He said another junior college tried elections, and the result was chaos.

Larry Snyder, music instructor and president of the faculty association, spoke in favor of the elections, but said there had earlier been an unsuccessful attempt at compromise with Epler. Mrs. Deedy, after the unanimous vote turning down the plan, said the board would be happy to hear any compromise proposal.

The Marin Junior College District Board Also:

1. Received final spring enrollment figures showing enrollment at 3,962, compared to 3,521 last year, with fulltime enrollment at 1,949, up from 1,441, and evening class enrollment at 2,841 in 92 classes, about double that of 1964.

2. Revised rules for use of the student center, and asked that events such as the Marin Conservation League annual dinner, co-sponsored by the college's Naturalist Club this year and using the center, not that co-sponsorship in any publicity.

3. Approved use of some faculty parking spaces near the old cafeteria for students working in the Student Center.

4. Expressed hope the Town of Ross would allow work on Corte Madera Creek up to Ross Creek, to eliminate the need for a lateral ditch and wall at the Ross town limits, and expressed pleasure at the fact the first phase widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard would use land across the street from the campus.

5. Were told a salary increase plan recommended by the faculty association would cost $108,900 next year, compared to $90,000 proposed by the administration.

6. Granted a one-year leave of absence to English instructor Mrs. Gayle Seguin.

7. Granted $500 bonuses to instructors Lois D. Powell and Ruth H. Klotz for earning master of arts degrees.

8. Hired Carol J. Wells as receptionist in the dean of students office for $371 a month.

9. Congratulated the basketball team and coach Calvin Riemcke for winning the league championship.

10. Congratulated the student leadership for running a regional sudent government conference on campus attended by 250 student leaders from other schools.

Youth Group Questions City Policy

Directors of the Southern Marin Boys Club agreed last night to investigate why the Mill Valley Youth Council has been "ousted" from running teen dances each Friday ngiht at the city's Community and Youth Center, club President David Gilliam said today.

He said, too, the club will investigate why there has been a "drop off" in youth interest in dances since the city took over the running of three dances per month last December.

"We have been squeezed out gradually by the city," Gilliam said. The youth council now sponsors one dance per month and sometimes none since it cannot always obtain the center, he said.

The board will continue its summer work program of gardening, hauling, maintenance and general handiwork and has purchased a $450 dump truck to be used in the program. Directors also proposed to ask city officials for permission to develop the area in front of the community center and behind the Mill Valley Refuge Co. yard at Project 17, Gilliam reported.

Ross Planning To Proceed With Some Drake Widening

The Ross Town Council voted 41 last night to proceed with widening a short stretch of Sir Francis Boulevard in hope of easing the commuter squeeze.

The lone dissenting vote came from Councilman William P. McAndrew, who said the council was being swayed by the offer of funds for the $115,000 project and that the funnel effect of a narrowing road would not be solved.

"Emotionally I'm dead against it," agreed Councilman Mrs. Natalie G. Lewis, after casting her vote for the project.

Ross will put $50,000 in state gasoline tax rebates into the project; San Anselmo and Fairfax have agreed to release urban throughfare funds earmarked for the boulevard. Other funds will come from the County of Marin.

The stretch from Bolinas Avenue to Winship Bridge will be widened. Incidentally the work is expected to ease traffic on Shady Lane, a route commuters now take to avoid the bottleneck of the narrowing boulevard.

Shady Lane residents appeared at the council meeting at the town hall last night with a petition containing 214 signatures asking that stop signs be placed on the street, that commuters be shunted from it by not allowing turns onto Bolinas Avenue from Drake Boulevard, that "bumps" be put in the pavement to slow traffic and that there be stiff enforcement of speed laws.

Mayor Frederick S. Allen suggested that turns onto Bolinas Avenue from Drake Boulevard not be allowed during commuter hours.

The Ross Town Council Also:

1. Adopted a business license fee ordinance, raising fees in some cases and lowering them in others.

2. Introduced an ordinance setting up a procedure for granting non-exclusive franchies to cable television firms, with the town to get 2 per cent of the monthly gross or, after four years of a firm's operation, at least $100 monthly.

3. Introduced an ordinance limiting parking on Poplar Avenue in the commercial area to two hours. There now is no limit.

4. Heard that the cost of printing 20 copies of the approximately 300 pages of the Ross code would be $1,635 and agreed to gather other estimates.

5. Heard preliminary draft of an ordinance against nuisances such as loud noises, auto body repair work, use of power driven heavy machinery on Sundays or holidays or after 7 p.m. and before 8 a.m. weekdays, and against loud speakers on public streets.

6. Appointed Mayor Allen to be town representative to the Assn. of Bay Area Governments.

7. Rejected the claim of I. J. Ely that the town owed his construction firm $1,290 for alleged additional road work not covered under a contract.

8. Agreed to notify Edgar N. Goldstein of San Francisco that he must correct the construction work on a carriage house on Upper Road or the city will condemn the building, now occupied.

9. Agreed to notify Walter Shawyer that he must removed the tree on his property, which he poisoned, as it is a hazard to city streets, and gave him 60 days to do it.

Meningitis Kills Tehama Child

RED BLUFF (AP) — Nine-year - old Thomas W. Clary, stricken Tuesday with meningitis, died today in Tehama County Hospital.

The boy was the son of Charles Clary, superintendent of the Los Molinos Unified School District.

Dr. Anthony M. Fratis, county health officer, said he believed the Clary boy's illness to be an isolated case.

Hot Letter Due Clausen On Flooding

The Ross Town Council agreed last night to put into writing what it thinks of the Army Corps of Engineers and the Corps' plans for Corte Madera Creek flood control.

At suggestion of Councilman Natalie G. Lewis, the council agreed to write a "strong, hot" letter to Rep. Don H. Clausen, R-First District, about the recent change in the engineer plans for flood control.

The thought that a "wall" 17 feet high would form either side of the interior of a ditch in Kentfield on the Ross town line brought horrified comments from councilmen.

"We will not give them a carte blanche to go through town with something the people of Ross dont' want," said Mayor Frederick S. Allen. But if Ross were to resist the project, the town might be responsible for flooding of other cities, the mayor noted.

It's a ghastly decision we're going to be faced with," said Councilman Roy Farrington Jones.

Ross residents at the council meeting were urged to attend a meeting of the Marin County oBard of Supervisors at the Civic Center March 28 at which the project will be discussed.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

College Newspaper's Aim Is In The Right Direction

Those who would accuse the Independent-Journal of emphasizing sensationalism to the point where more space is devoted to wrong-doers would find that by actual count, the reverse is true. This was pointed out in yesterday's editorial.

It is the impact left by news stories dealing with wrong-doing which gives the casual reader the impression that errant behavior by youngsters is blown out of proportion.

Furthermore, those who are quick to criticize should bear in mind that newspapers do not make the news; they merely report what occurs.

Take our own College of Marin newspaper, The Tower Times, a respectable publication which certainly cannot be accused of catering in particular to the lurid or sensational. The Tower Times has little reason to resort to the sensational to increase street sales.

But in the course of events, when vandals commit $150 worth of damage on the college campus and thus force a cancellation in the college dances for a month, the Tower Times reports the occurrence, just as any alert newspaper should.

The banner headline across the top of the March 4 edition of the college paper read: "Vandalism Upsets Campus Life."

On a college campus or in the community of Marin, suppression of crime or other "bad" news serves no public good and often does a disservice.

It would be far more constructive for those who condemn newspapers to re-direct their energies to condemning those who commit the wrongs and thus get themselves into print.

Just as the front page of the Tower Times rightly publicized the acts of vandalism, the main editorial of the same edition aims its guns in the right direction.

The student editorial writer deplores the damage done at the Friday night college dance and the litter left in the college cafteria. She then winds up with this constructive bit of advice:

"There are too many imbeciles who expect the busboy to pick up after them. The purpose of the busboys is to straighten the chairs and wipe the tables clean—not to pick up after kiddies who haven't left the sandbox stage of housebreaking. Mommy may let them make messes at home, but we are not going to do it here . . .

"So, if some slob leaves his dishes and litter on the table next to yours, either grab him, or pick it up yourself."

We couldn't have expressed it more poignantly.

The Strange Fate Of Ikeya-Seki

Ikeya-Seki, the comet which excited the scientific curiosity of many Marinites last autumn, became a much more interesting object as its orbit passed around the sun. In early November, it began to break up. Two, possibly three, distinct parts were formed from its nucleus.

Scientists were wondering if this would happen. The Great Comet of 1882 passed approximately the same distance from the sun and broke into five or six distinct starlike points, strung out in a line, which prompted its nickname, "The String of Pearls Comet."

Comets remain "a mystery inside an enigma"—lonely wanderers of the sky.

Campaign Chairman For Reagan In Marin Has An Uphill Fight

By WAT TAKESHITA

LOOKS AS IF Paul R. Haerle of San Rafael has been picked to head the Ronald Reagan campaign in Marin County.

Takeshita

Haerle is a partner in a San Francisco law firm. A native of Oregon, he graduated from Yale University and the University of Michigan Law School.

A resident of Marin for six years, he's been in the news during the past year as president of the Marin Republican Council, one of the most active of Marin's Republican volunteer groups.

BECAUSE OF the 1964 Goldwater vs. Rockefeller battle that split the Marin GOP, Reagan forces have been trying to get a Marin chairman that is not too closely identified with either Goldwater or Rockefeller.

Haerle did support Goldwater in 1964, but he's made it plain that after the primaries, he would support the GOP winner, whether it be Reagan or Christopher.

Haerle's job in Marin will not be an easy one. Moderate Republicans outnumber the so-called conservatives by better than two to one, if the Rockefeller-Goldwater vote is any indication.

Moderate leaders like Tally Mastrangelo of Sausalito and Bill Bagley of San Rafael are going all out for George Christopher in his primary battle against Reagan.

IF AT ALL possible, Haerle will be out to win backing for Reagan and still not alienate the moderate Republicans so that the GOP will still remain unified against Governor Brown in the November battle.

Reagan's angry walkout from the California Negro Republican Assembly convention in Santa Monica last weekend certainly doesn't make Haerle's job any easier.

THOMAS W. BRADEN, president of the State Board of Education, is also publisher of the Oceanside Blade-Tribune. In his bid for the lieutenant governorship, Braden is apparently leaning over backwards to make sure he doesn't use his newspaper to political advantage.

Says Braden: "My newspaper will be placed during the campaign in the hands of a committee of employees chairmanned by the managing editor. I have given him only one injunction and that is that no editorial support shall be given me."

MARIN FEDERATED Republican Women have found a new location for its luncheon next Tuesday, March 15. It's the Le Chalet Basque, located in Santa Venetia at 405 North San Pedro Road. Business meeting at 11:30 will be followed by lunch at 12:15 p.m.

Speaker for the luncheon will be Arch Monson, coordinating chairman for George Christopher.

TOMORROW NOON (March 12) John Kenneth Galbraith, former ambassador to India, will speak to the Americans for Democratic Action at Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco. Nancy Swadesh of Tiburon is the chairman of the sponsoring organization.

MORE CANDIDATES are lining up for the county coroner's race. Assistant Coroner Bill Bradley will probably run, and (Senator) Richard Wood of San Rafael is also being mentioned.

Sausalito Schools Due Credit

Editor, Independent-Journal:

When you are handing out bouquets will you give an extra large one to an organization which is doing a tremendous job in the important area of human relations — the Sausalito School District? Children in their schools are benefitting from full integration — social, economic, and intellectual as well as racial.

It is my good fortune to have worked for several months as a volunteer in the Central School library and to have seen, from week to week, the progress that has been made. The growth is sometimes stormy and uneven but it is present in noticeable quantity and quality. There is an atmosphere of accomplishing tasks together which is very stimulating.

Something Wrong With Economy

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Draft Director Hershey recently stated: "The American people do not like the Viet war, but like the prosperity the war generates." I think there must be something basically wrong with an economic system that requires cold and hot wars in order to generate prosperity. The American people dislike to alternate between economic depression and bloodshed. They dislike our boys returned in boxes, while defense contractors boom. Americans hate to earn their bread with blood money. They dislike seeing headlines as "stock market tumbling because of peace rumors."

In our nuclear age an economy which is scared of peace and only thrives in war will be destructive to human life not only in Viet Nam, but will sooner or later doom us all into oblivion.

Can't Defend Viet Policy

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Morrie Ryskind may trot out his old bromides, and Roscoe Drummond may harness up his pompous moralizing — but both in fact can muster nothing but name-calling in defense of the Administration's actions in Viet Nam and its Republican me-too supporters.

If the Administration's aim is self-determination for the South Vietnamese, as claimed, we must recognize the Viet Cong as a major party to negotiations, as long as the interests of other parties are protected by an international trusteeship. (In this case the extent of Communist influence in the Viet Cong is irrelevant.) If the Administration's aim is to maintain a foothold on the continent of Asia or to "contain" China, the President should say so honestly—and I contend that such an objective would not hold up under hardheaded geopolitical scrutiny. (In this case the U.S. "search and kill' offensive against the Viet Cong is unnecessary, as General Gavin suggests.)

If the Administration's aim is to root out communism throughout the globe, I predict this will be as disastrous as all such misguided crusades throughout history. To quote Hans Morgenthau, the University of Chicago's conservative foreign policy expert, "The only standard by which a sound foreign policy must be informed is not moral and philosophic opposition to communism as such, but the bearing which a particular communism in a particular country has upon the interests of the United States. . . . The United States would then have to compete with the Soviet Union and China in the sponsorship of revolutions, taking the risk that not all those revolutions would remain under American sponsorship." This policy worked in Yugoslavia; until we try it in Viet Nam I say we are not justified in sacrificing one American serviceman or Vietnamese civilian.

Beautiful Time With Tulip Tree

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What a beautiful time of year! What a privilege to live in Marvelous Marin, not only for the glorious weather and beauty, but for all the love and joy extended by all.

Again, this year, we have the joy of seeing the beautiful, beatuiful "Tulip" tree on the corner of Magnolia and Piedmont Avenue in Larkspur and the happiness of seeing it at night because of the love extended by the friendly folk at that address by having a spotlight on it. It is truly "awe inspiring." Am very grateful for the opportunity of thanking them through this fine newspaper.

Thank you all for your courtesy and a happy, happy day to all.

WHEN FORD Madox Ford, sometime collaborator of Joseph Conrad, edited the scholarly English Review, he discovered so many "geniuses" that he drove the owners to the verge of bankruptcy. One day he burst into an editorial conclave waving a manuscript wildly. "Lord preserve us," grumbled the business manager. "Ford's got hold of another genius." "This time," exulted Ford, "it's a real one, gentlemen." And this time he was right, too. The manuscript was the first submitted by D. H. Lawrence.

To Be Effective, Republicans Must Act On Their New Ideas

WASHINGTON—The trouble with the Republican Party is that it bravely fights to win the Presidency from July to November every four years, but has already lost before the campaign begins.

This is one of the arresting propositions in a 371-page what-to-do study the House GOP Committee on Planning and Research commissioned from the independent Lincoln Research Center in Washington.

This report lays down the premise that Presidential elections must be won during the four years that precede the voting, not during the four months of formal campaigning.

AND IT GOES further. It advises the Republican leaders to do some pretty radical things about it—like these:

Spend more money projecting the Republican case between the elections and less during the campaign.

Do more to pre-empt the winning issues—national security and economic growth—in order to show that the GOP is most to be relied upon for both.

Create an advisory defense council and an advisory economic council to keep the GOP fully and continuously abreast of the matters of greatest concern.

PRESENTLY about 20 per cent of Republican campaign funds is spent after the nominating conventions, only 20 per cent in the intervening years. If the party strategists are to consider reversing these priorities—or something near to it—they will have to feel sure that the way most people are going to vote is shaped before the campaign begins.

On this point the Lincoln report notes that by using two key questions—which party do you think best to avert war and insure prosperity? — the Gallup Poll has obtained an accurate forecast of how people plan to vote.

Taken together, these two questions have provided a sensitive barometer of voting intentions in all Presidential elections since 1952.

THIS IS WHY the Lincoln study concludes that "elections are won or lost between elections." It cites the finding of Gallup that "for a nominee to win he must reflect the feelings of a majority of the American people on the dominant issues of the day"—the dominant issues almost invariably being national security and prosperity.

To enable the Republican leaders to deal more effectively with and to expound their views more persuasively on both of these issues, it is recommended:

That a defense advisory council be drawn from retiring military leaders and former Republican Secretaries of Defense.

THAT AN advisory economic council fo qualified experts be created to work closely with Republicans.

These councils would advise and assist the minority party the way the President's defense and economic advisers serve him.

It is good that the GOP leaders are looking for new ideas. The unanswered question is: How will they act on them?

INSIDE WASHINGTON

McNamara Muzzle Try Falls Through

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A new attempt by Defense Secretary McNamara to muzzle his military advisers is backfiring.

An upublicized McNamara directive designed to compel military witnesses before congressional committees to tesify in line with administration policy is producing the opposite results.

At a hearing of the Senate Armed Services Committee, Chairman Richard Russell, D-Ga., not only forced McNamara to withdraw this gag but made him agree to permit the joint chiefs of staff to freely voice their views on Russian military capabilities and plans.

UNDER ASSURANCES by Russell that the committee would not permit any reprisals, the joint chiefs then made statements flatly challenging McNamara's contention that the U.S. and U.S.S.R. are headed for an understanding and that the greatest threat comes from Red China.

Gen. John McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, summed up the military opinion when he told the committee, "Russia is still the No. 1 enemy of the U.S., and not Communist China."

He charged that Russia is producing more advance weaponry than McNamara is conceding, saying:

"The Soviets may soon make a technological breakthrough which could wipe out the lead the U.S. now has in strategic weapons. Money which should be spent in this field is being shifted to help pay the cost of the Viet Nam war."

IN McNAMARA'S statement at this closed-door committee meeting he characterized U.S.-Soviet relations as increasingly cordial and accommodating.

"The focus of the U.S. defense problem has shifted perceptibly toward the Far East," McNamara contended. "Soviet leaders appear to share with us a desire to avoid wars which might lead to a direct U.S.-U.S.S.R. military confrontation and to curtail the speed of Chinese Communist influence."

In sharp contrast to this view, the Joint Chiefs pointed out that Russia is supplying North Viet Nam with late-model MIG-21 jet fighters, modern anti-aircraft missiles, arms, machinery and petroleum products.

"THIS ASSISTANCE, combined with the continued heavy emphasis of the Soviet on strategic weapon research," the joint chiefs declared, "is not a course toward an accommodation with the U.S."

McNamara's five-year projection of military budgeting through 1971 was assailed by the joint chiefs as lacking a decision to start full-scale development of new important weapons systems, such as the Nike-X anti-ballistic missile, advanced strategic and interceptor aircraft.

Adm. David McDonald, chief of naval operations, took direct issue with McNamara's playing down Russia's development of large and modern naval forces.

McDonald warned that Soviet concentration on anti-submarine warfare could lead a breakthrough which would greatly decrease the effectiveness of this country's Polaris submarine fleet.

President Johnson is letting members of Congerss know he isn't happy about some of their statements concerning members of his cabinet.

DURING VICE PRESIDENT Hubert Humphrey's White House briefing on Viet Nam for legislators, the president singled out Sen. Stephen Young, D-Ohio, with a rebuke for a barb at Secretary Rusk. Young had said he didn't sleep well knowing that Rusk was at the helm of the State Department.

Johnson told a story about the First Lady urging him to hurry to a reception in the Capitol. When she asked what was delaying him, he quipped that he had to stop at a drugstore "to get some sleeping pills for Steve Young."

Johnson told the legislators they should understand that the President, not Congress, selects cabinet members.

Mrs. Rosa, Sausalito, Remembers Back Over Span Of Seven Decades

The other day we visited Mrs. Josie Rosa—believed to be the Sausalito area's oldest living native—who lives in a house with scalloped shingles and a yellow mail box out front.

She was sitting in a pink bathrobe in her living room overlooking the bay and holding a paper fan which had "Masson" printed on it.

Mrs. Rosa said she had lived in this same house 70 years but that she was born in Tennessee Valley where her father, Joseph Silva, had 100 ducks, 350 chickens and a few cows and used to sell cheese, which he made himself, and eggs in San Francisco.

"WHEN THEY said there would be a cemetery in Tennessee Valley, my mother said, 'I don't want to live here any more' and we moved to town.

Mrs. Rosa remembers seeing a woman get off the ferry in Sausalito after the fire and earthquake with a baby in one arm and a loaf of bread in the other. The woman said, "I've lost my husband."

She remembers walking seven miles to school in Sausalito and seven miles home again. There was no Marin City then. And she walked next to the slaughterhouse because Waldo Point came all the way to the bay.

She remembers being in bed with her newly born son, Clarence, when her husband, Joe, arrived home at 3 a.m. saying the ferry on which he worked, the Sausalito, had hit and sunk the ferry San Rafael. Mrs. Rosa's husband helped fish people out of the water at midnight in the fog.

MRS. ROSA recalls the "dashing and stylish" John Reed who drove to town with his son behind two black horses, and she recalls meeting William Randolph Hearst.

But Mrs. Rosa doesn't know how old she is. "I'm old I know," she said. "I was christened at St. Vincent's. I lost my age." Asked how old she thinks she is, Mrs. Rosa replied, "I don't know. I could be more or less."

Mrs. Rosa said her father had also been in the whaling business and had hauled hay, grain and cattle on a schooner in the bay when there were 11 dairies in the area. Her late husband worked 29 years on ferry boats.

The gray-haired, brown-eyed Mrs. Rosa said she remembers when Vina Del Mar Plaza was a horse stable with a watering trough and how, one day, she saw something shiny near the trough which turned out to be a $5 gold piece. "I picked it up," she said she..

THE FIRESIDE used to be called Victor's, she continued. "It was a saloon. Victor was a little shorty and he used to love beans."

"We used to pack a lunch and walk to Point Bonita or Bolinas. We also walked to Mill Valley to pick blackberries when there were just a few houses — mostly Spanish people.

"There used to be gambling in Sausalito around the Plaza Bar and there were three dance halls."

MRS. ROSA SAID she has not been outside the house for 12 years. "My friends have all passed away," she sighed. She said she listens to the radio and likes to play cards but finds television programs pretty silly. She likes to eat, Mrs. Rosa added, liking hamburger, sausage, soup meat, scrambled eggs and ice cream. "I eat fine," said she.

Mrs. Rosa, who lives with her daughter, Marie Souza, has four children, two grandchildren and two great grandchildren. She believes people used to be more friendly than they are today.

"I never took any liquor in my life," declared Mrs. Rosa, "and the town don't give me five cents and the state don't give me five cents."

What Would Happen At Geneva If Surfing Club Finds Bomb?

WASHINGTON — There has been a lot of anxiety in Spain over the story that the United States lost a hydrogen bomb. The fact that we found three out of the four bombs doesn't seem to mean anything to our critics. All they keep harping on is the one we lost. They seem to forget nobody is perfect.

The big fear, of course, is that the hydrogen bomb will fall into the wrong hands.

A month from now four surfers walk into the Geneva Nuclear Disarmament Conference and one of them says to the Russian delegate:

"Move over, Charlie. We're a major power."

"What is the meaning of this?" the chairman says. "Who are you people?"

"We're members of the Black Feet Surfing and Nuclear Club. You can't ignore us anymore. We've got the bomb."

"This is ridiculous," the American delegate says.

"It may be ridiculous to you, lover, but if you want true disarmament, you got to deal with us."

"Ya, see," one of the other kids says, "Morty and I were out skin-diving off the coast of Spain two weeks ago and we found the hydrogen bomb that was lost. Morty was for setting it off right away just to see what kind of bang it would make, but I said the bomb really belongs to the club and we should all decide what to do with it."

"SO," SAYS A third kid, "we had a meeting. Everybody had a different idea.

"Tommy Blue wanted to use it to blow up the police station in Santa Monica, as he hates the fuzz out there. Angel thought we should put it on a surfboard and sent it into the Suez Canal, and Crewcut Harry said he thought we should sink Cuba. But Liz the Fiz said that since we possessed a hydrogen bomb we were a nuclear power and we should first go to Geneva and talk to you people and maybe make a deal."

The American delegate says, "The hydrogen bomb is our property and must be returned to us."

"We wouldn't use it unless one of you countries used it against us," one surfer says.

THE AMERICAN delegate says, "What do you want then?"

"That's the trouble," a surfer replies. "We don't know what we want. If we did, we wouldn't be surfers."

"Morty says we should ask for Hawaii."

The American delegate says, "Impossible."

"Tommy Blue says the surfing is supposed to be very good in the Black Sea."

The Russian delegate says, "Ridiculous."

"Liz the Fiz says the least we should get out of it is a seat on the U.N. Security Council."

"With a veto, of course," another surfer chimes in.

The chairman of the conference says, "We will not be blackmailed."

"YOU EITHER TAKE us in the club or we join France and Red China and go it alone."

"We don't know how long we can keep our club members in line," a second adds. "Half of 'em are for setting it off now. Like they're bored."

"All right," the American delegate says, "I'll confer with my government."

"I will have to speak to Moscow," the Russian delegate says.

"Well, don't take too long," one of the kids says. "This Geneva hangup is a drag."

Roy Brown's Many Years In Marin Recalled Fondly

FUSSELMAN

Sad news today (Wednesday). I heard it over the KTIM noon broadcast. Roy Brown was not with us any more. It is going to be difficult to write the column tonight.

Picture after picture comes to mind, as I sit here, of Roy from the first days of his arrival and over the years. I see him constantly moving about . . .in the editorial room . . . the composing room . . . the press room . . . the display advertising department . . . the classified . . . the delivery area and back again: Over and over again. I see him walking down the street to the bank with the money bag in his hand for the daily deposit. I see him strolling along Fourth Street, bareheaded, with a quiet happy smile on his face.

He loved his city and his county and was extremely ambitious for them. He wanted the best. He talked to me many, many times offering good, sound suggestions. His was an unusually active and perceptive mind. Then I see him year after year working throughout the night at the county clerk's office tallying and computing the votes as they came in.

OFTEN I have thought of the paper as a growing thing . . . a sturdy tree, if you will, which has been so carefully and earnestly cared for, that the economic storms, which have demolished so many such enterprises in the past few years, have only increased its sturdiness.

Roy Brown had the good fortune of fine associates imbued with the same pride of and loyalty to the paper as his. In my opinion, it is the outstanding example, in the county, of sound healthy growth because of these loyalties. I know he would wish all of us to carry on. As I said, though, it is not easy.

WELL, the board of supervisors have paid little heed to the recommendations of the Grand Jury and insist they have the best man. Since that statement was first quoted as having been made by the chairman, one can hear on all sides: "How can they know?"

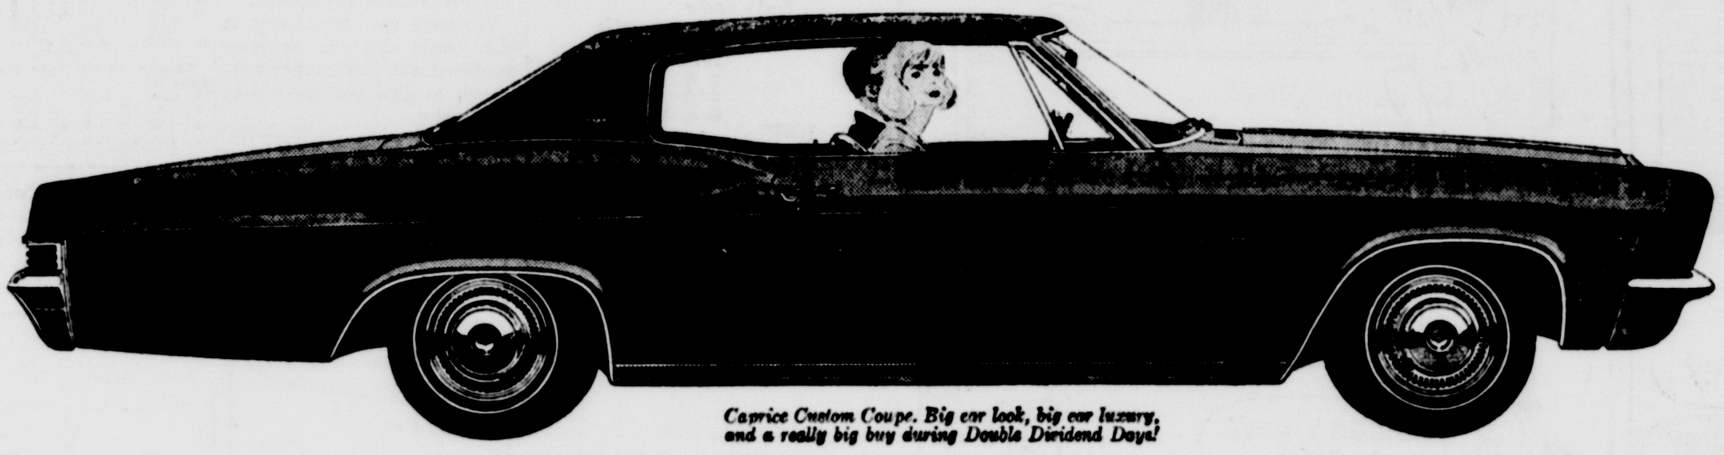

The Grand Jury reports that under oath the admission was made that not one of them had interviewed any of those recommended by the oral review board and that only the supervisor from Ross Valley had talked to the man they appointed and that for a very brief moment. Either the administrator exceeded his authority in juggling the names around for presentation to the board, in session, or he was told to do what he did. This is the opinion you can hear up and down the street.

THERE HAS been one good bit of news. James Robertson of the public works department and Arthur Jenkins, engineer of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, are to study the traffic problem, together, and report to their respective boards. They are both well trained, competent men in the transportation field. You will recall that in the early fall last year, the administrator advised the board that the bus company should be subsidized by the county and that the change-over would be accomplished by the first of this year. Perhaps someday it will be apparent to the board that this constant referral of everything to the administrator can be a dangerous procedure and costly tax-wise.

RESPECTING the $4.3 million bond issue that is to be submitted at the June primaries, I believe you will wish to do some calculating on who pays and who receives the benefits. It is purported to be the intention to distribute the funds on a population basis. Space does not permit an analysis of this, today. I hope to attempt it next week.

Stanley J. Fontez is the Marin County Treasurer (not assessor). The copy I filed last week was changed, in error, somehow.

King of Denmark, Frederick IX, was born on this day in 1899.

In 1888, a great blizzard began in New York City and it snowed four straight days. More than 200 persons died in the storm.

In 1930, former President William Howard Taft became the first Chief Executive of the United States to be buried in the National Cemetery at Arlington, Va.

In 1941, President Franklin Roosevelt signed the hotly-debated lend-lease bill and immediately ordered goods sent to Britain and Greece.

In 1959, the Senate approved Hawaii as the 50th state.

Poker-Faced Strategy Not Bad When Planning To Steal Trick

If you're going to stage a robbery in broad daylight an innocent look is a better disguise than a black silk mask.

If this doesn't sound right to you, just look at a hand from a recent team championship.

Opening lead — ♡ K

At the first table of the match South made it obvious that he planned to do away with a trick.

He won the first trick with the ace of hearts and immediately cleared the ace of clubs out of the way.

WEST SPOTS PLOY

South next cashed the top spades and let a low spade.

West saw that South wanted desperately to get to dummy to discard on the clubs, so he stepped up with the ace of trumps and cashed a heart trick before it got away from him.

East eventually took the setting trick with the king of diamonds, and everybody tossed compliments at West for being so alert.

Nobody thought of tossing a cabbage at South for being so clumsy.

DELAYS CLUBS

At the second table South didn't make the club situation so obvious.

After winning the first trick with the ace of hearts, declarer led out the top spades.

The queen dropped, and South saw what would happen if he cleared the ace of clubs out of the way.

Instead, South led a low spade.

West discarded a club, since there was no danger.

Declarer ruffed the spade in dummy and returned to his hand with the ace of clubs to lead another low spade.

West still saw no danger. South had made no attempt to discard anything on dummy's clubs, so West discarded another club.

South ruffed in dummy and cashed a king of clubs to get rid of the losing heart.

Then he gave up two trump tricks and made his contract.

The longest way around is sometimes the shortest way home.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 10 9 7 3
♥ 10 9 6 2
♦ K
♣ J 10 7 3

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two spades.

You have only four points in high cards, but the singleton combined with four trumps adds enough to give you the values for a raise.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Medical Expense Is Often A Deduction

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

Medical expenses are deductible to the extent they exceed 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

If you or your spouse are over 65 years old, the 3 per cent provision does not apply to you.

P. J. Wikel

You can deduct any sums that you spent for " . . the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment or prevention of disease, or for the purpose of affecting any structure or function of the body (including amounts paid for accident or health insurance), or for transportation primarily for and essential to medical care . . . "

Deductible as medical expenses are your costs for drugs and medicines to the extent that they exceed 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income. If you are over 65, you can deduct all of your medicine and drugs without first deducting the 1 per cent.

Costs of travel, transportation, rental of special sickroom equipment, etc., as well as doctor bills, nurses, hospital costs and other expenses directly connected with your illness or accident are deductible. These costs can be for yourself or any of your dependents.

The dependent must have been your dependent either at the time the costs were incurred or at the time they were paid. You can deduct medical costs you paid for a dependent even though you may not be able to claim the dependent as a tax exemption. For instance: You help support your mother who worked part time and made over $600. Because she made over $600 you cannot claim her as a dependent. However, if you furnished over one-half of her support, you can still deduct the medical costs you paid for her.

If you pay medical expenses for your dependent parent and the parent is over 65, you can deduct all of the parent's medical expenses. You do not have to reduce the medicines and drugs by 1 per cent of your adjusted gross income. In other words, the expenses paid for the parent are not reduced by 1 per cent or 3 per cent of your adjusted gross income, even though you are not yet 65 yourself. However, your maximum deduction cannot exceed $5,000 per personal exemption and not more than $10,000 on a separate return or more than $20,000 on a joint or head of household return. Exemptions for old age and blindness do not count.

If you are disabled and over 65, you can deduct up to $20,000 and if you and your wife are both disabled and over 65 you can deduct up to $40,000, but not more than $20,000 for each.

Under Revenue Procedure 64-15, you can deduct five cents per mile for the use of your car for transportation to secure medical care.

Use Form 2948 medical and dental expense statement and attach it to your tax return.

It does not matter when these costs were incurred. They are deductible in the year paid. You cannot deduct costs that you owe. They must be paid to get the deduction.

If part of your medical costs were reimbursed, that is, if your insurance company paid a part of them, then you can deduct only the part you actually paid and that was not reimbursed to you.

AUTHOR ON CAR SAFETY—Ralph Nader, author of a book on automobile safety entitled "Unsafe at Any Speed," poses behind the wheel of an automobile recently in Washington, D.C. (AP Wirephoto)

Senate Wants To Know About Car Critic Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators will try to determine just what the strawberry blonde was up to standing there before the cracker counter in a supermarket and rolling her eyes at the young fellow.

The young fellow is Ralph Nader, 32, tall, dark-haired, intense, crusader for safer automobiles and author of the new book "Unsafe At Any Speed."

According to Nader, a bachelor, he was minding his own business one day last month, trying to pick out some biscuits for his larder when the blonde — name unknown to him — struck up a conversation.

Would he mind awfully, she pleaded, coming up to her apartment and helping her move some furniture around?

"Now ordinarily," Nader said last night, "I probably would have obliged, but maybe I was on guard because it was the second incident of that nature."

A short time earlier a strange brunette had encountered him in a drug store and signified that she craved his company so they could discuss foreign affairs.

Nader and his friends say these were only two of a string of peculiar events which began after his book was published and which continued after he appeared before a Senate subcommittee Feb. 10 to develop his thesis that American autos are 30 years behind the times in safety construction, and cost thousands of lives.

Nader said gumshoes followed him, private eyes interviewed his acquaintances and his old professors and classmates at Harvard Law School, asking such questions as:

Did he have a normal sex life? Was he antisemitic? Did he belong to left-wing groups? Was he professionaly competent?

So yesterday Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., chairman of the subcommittee on traffic safety, announced that he was inviting the president of General Motors, James Roche, and heads of private detective agencies to appear March 22 and explain just what kind of investigation of Nader was conducted.

General Motors said it would be glad to cooperate by sending representatives. It acknowledged it had investigated Nader. But it said no intimidation or harassment was involved.

"It is a well-known and accepted practice in the legal profession," the giant corporation said, "to investigate claims and persons making claims in the product liability field, such as the pending Corvair design cases."

The design of Corvairs 1960-63 is under attack from a safety viewpoint in pending lawsuits. Nader said he is not engaged in any such litigation.

TRAUMATIC

Spring Cleaning Is No More

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — The traumatic event known as "spring cleaning" is no more, claims one professional cleaning organization.

"A good portion of the 48 million women who faithfully tore up the house and scrubbed it from top to bottom in former days" no longer does so in one all-enveloping sweep. Instead, cleaning is a year-round process in most homes and today there is a more significant peak in the fall than in the spring.

SO SAYS one of the largest home and office cleaning concerns in the nation in with a roundup on how times have changed.

To the professional cleaning people, not only is the timing of cleaning changed, but so has the approach. Air-conditioning, new and cleaner heating systems, self-cleaning appliances, and easy-care fabrics for curtains, draperies and bedding all have combined to minimize need for the annual scrubdown.

For instance, says Servicemaster, mother used to hang out and air all bedding prior to a seasonal changeover. Daughter merely machine washes bedding, and if she uses an electric blanket rarely changes the weight of the bed covers.

Mother took down, washed and stretched the curtains and gave the blinds a scrub. Daughter dips the easy-care curtains or drapes in suds — or sends them to the cleaners and she's apt to use a miracle cleaner on the blinds.

Mother put slipcovers on furniture to make the house look cooler and protect good fabrics from summer dust and fading. Daughter depends on the air-conditioner for cooling and filtering dirt from the air.

Mother would spend a day scrubbing the range. Daughter uses an easy-care cleaner that unpeels the crustiest of stoves rapidly or owns a self-cleaning oven.

Mother scrubbed kitchen and bathroom walls and did the carpets herself. Daughter is learning to contract for these drudgery jobs on a year-round basis so that carpets can be done one month, walls another, floors another, whenever they need care.

Mother cleaned the attic or storeroom. Daughter isn't likely to have such collector's haunts in today's new homes and apartments.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Story Or A Visit May Speed Up Dawdling Child In The Mornings

DEAR HELEN:

You won't print this but here goes. I'm a mother, 28. I had my ears pierced when I was eight years old and they still are. My five-year-old daughter just begged me to pierce her ears. I said no until she tried to do it herself. We had her ears pierced Christmas. She now is wearing tiny little silver earrings which I paid $5 for. Now what is wrong with that?

By the way, her grandma did the piercing with the new "sleepers rings" and there is no needle.—SHIRLEY

DEAR READERS:

To forestall a lot of letters, I'll tell you right now I'm so out of touch I don't even know what a "sleepers ring" is, and frankly I'm not interested enough to find out.

As I've said before, there's nothing wrong with pierced ears, just as there's nothing wrong with wearing a ring in your nose. They're just not for me, that's all.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Maybe some of your readers could help me. Our five-year-old takes an hour to dress in the mornings and to change clothes after kindergarten.

How can you speed up a "poke-along"? Spankings fail, words fail. As working parents, we have no time for this delay. —A.S.

DEAR A:

My long-shot guess is that your last sentence is also your answer. Your child perhaps sees her working parents as people who are always leaving her. So she tries to delay you by dawdling. The more you prod, the balkier she gets; the more in a hurry you are, the slower she becomes.

Why not try a new system? Get up a half-hour earlier, help her get dressed, and then spend the extra time reading her a story or just visiting with her. Same in the evening — make changing into her playclothes important because she has something to anticipate . . . something she might miss if she poked. She'll outgrow this stage with a little good-natured assistance and a lot of no-pushing.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

How about this? Do you suppose kids are getting some sense? I actually saw a teenager with a butch haircut the other day. — HAPPILY SURPRISED

DEAR HAP:

Boy or girl?—H.

DEAR HELEN:

We are completely surrounded by beautiful cards, letters, magazines, travel guides, and are enjoying them all very much. Helen I wish you could see all the wonderful remembrances we've received from every state and 19 foreign countries—over 1,500 cards and letters, and letters, and they're still coming! When you told your readers my invalid husband and I could only travel "second-hand" they really brought the world right into our living room! Thank you, thank you, thank you — everybody.—MR. AND MRS. GEORGE E. MYERS, Tunnelton, W. Va.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of Independent-Journal, P. O. Box 330, San Rafael, Calif.

EXPERTS SAY

Be Fat And Happy But Don't Smoke

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Folks who refuse to give up smoking for fear of getting fat would be healthier if they were chubby and smokeless, according to two experts on obesity.

Smoking, they report, is much harder on a person than being slightly overweight.

Dr. E.S. Gordon, professor of medicine at the University of Wisconsin, and Dr. Jean Mayer, professor of nutrition at Harvard University, told a symposium on obesity yesterday that the problem of excessive fat is largely hereditary anyway.

"Everybody has a weight that's 'normal' for him, but there is no positive way of being sure just what it is," Gordon said.

"This so-called normal weight doesn't necessarily correspond with the actuarial tables of the insurance companies," he added.

They said that smoking a pack of cigarettes a day is about as bad for a person as being 90 pounds overweight, and that persons who refuse to give up smoking, hoping to remain slim, are making a serious tactical error in the battle to live longer.

Gordon also said that the common assumption that overweight shortens life has, strictly speaking, never been proved.

"What has been done," he said, "is to compare the death rates of say, 1,000 fat men and 1,000 thin men, or men of normal weight.

"But in order to reach any conclusion, it would be necessary to compare the death rates of 1,000 fat men and 1,000 men who had been fat but who had thinned down and stayed thin," he explained.

Both experts said they didn't mean to imply that being fat is good for someone, but only to make it clear they don't agree with the current concern with being overweight.

"Anyway," Dr. Mayer said, "the real reason everybody's so interested in his weight has little to do with health. People go on these goofy diets because they think they look better thin."

Sierra Club Officer Says Organization Not Extremist

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Sierra Club vice president, replying yesterday to criticism of a timber industry spokesman, denied his conservationist organization is extremist.

Dr. Edgar Wayburn contended the statement obscured the issue: club proposals for establishment of a large redwood national park.

"We feel there should be a Redwood National Park worthy of the tradition of national parks," Dr. Wayburn said in a statement. "We mean redwood forests of the type which we were fortunate enough to inherit," he added.

Don Cave, Eureka stockbroker who is chairman of the industry-sponsored Redwood Park and Recreation Committee, had criticized the club.

Sierra Club proposals are in bills that 47 senators and representatives introduced in behalf of the park in Northwestern California. Dr .Wayburn asked if Cave "considers all 47 congressmen extremists."

American Football League attendance has increase 72.7 per cent in the past four years.

Junior College Budget May Dip Into Red Ink Spending

A tentative deficit-spending budget of $4,072,628 was presented last night to trustees of the Marin Junior College District.

The budget is up about 18 per cent over the present fiscal year, up from $3,451,667, and would cut into district reserve funds $42,878. The budget did not include funds for the college building program.

The income from local property taxes was estimated by the college administration to go up 10 per cent, to $1,540,150, but the major income increases would come from the state and federal government.

From the federal government, funds for children of federal employees or persons living on federal land were expected to drop from $75,000 to $40,000, but funds for the work-study program for hiring low income students were predicted to jump from $184,084 to $303,440.

State basic aid was expected to rise from $746,850 this year to $1,055,645, and state-administered funds, partly federal in origin, for vocational education, will go from $57,955 this year to $79,175 in the 1966-67 fiscal year, administrators said.

The biggest area of increase was for instruction, up $555,841 to $2,574,217. Of that amount, $153,378 would be used to hire 18 more teachers to meet expected enrollment increases caused partly by the newly passed G.I. Bill of Rights.

Two new counselors, costing $17,042, and a new department principal, for $19,750, were also proposed. Purchase of library books, $14,000 this year, was expected to jump to $30,000 next year.

The major budget cut was a $66,246 item in this year's budget for purchase of equipment for instruction. That item was eliminated entirely for next year. Also dropped was the annual $25,000 transfer to the building fund.

The tentative budget was handed to the board as an information item only, and no date was set for discussion, but the trustees did act on $3,273,490 worth of spending, only part of which was shown in the budget, in which federal money was also involved.

The action, which was unanimous, was approval for the application for funds on a long series of projects, some for instruction and others for administration or construction.

The biggest single item was $500,000, requested from the Office of Education toward construction of the new science building to cost $2,485,000.

Next largest was $331,000 to support the work-study program. The district will put up $33,100 in matching funds, and the request had been earlier approved also.

Largest of the new items before the board was $20,000, to be matched by an equal amount by the district, for purchase of science equipment. Another, with $17,000 put up each by the district and federal government, was for second phase development of the Bolinas Marine Station.

A $30,000 project, with the district paying half, was approved for purchase of a new computer for data processing.

The projects which gained the most enthusiasm from the board were plans to put lectures and shop demonstrations on film for use with small display projectors for individual study by students. An $18,500 project, half federally supported, to put the entire Geology 10 course on film, was approved as an experiment.

Louis Caillat, photography instructor, was told next year he could spend half his time developing such programs, after he demonstrated the equipment and sample films already made to the board. He said it takes about one hour of staff time to produce one minute of sound film.

Joins Music Group

Elizabeth Denison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Denison of 30 Gloria Drive, San Rafael, has been chosen as a member of Treble Clef Society at the University of California, Berkeley.

Sewer Work Ultimatum To Contractor

Las Gallinas Sanitary District officials today handed an ultimatum to contractors for a $400,000 sewer installation.

The action was authorized by district directors last night.

Kirkwood-Bly of Santa Rosa stopped work on a forced main crossing Gallinas Creek two weeks ago, claiming that the design made installation impossible.

District Engineer J. Warren Nute answered that other crossings of similar designs have been installed and operated without trouble.

Today's ultimatum declares that the contractor must get back to work by Monday or the district will declare a default.

The board called a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday to take the action if necessary.

The first organized baseball game in San Francisco was played on Feb. 22, 1860.

Youth Dances' Backer Replies To Neighbors

Carl K. Brown, Corte Madera Lion's Club representative who regulates use of the town recreation center, has invited residents who object to noise from teen-age dances there to visit one "and see what today's youth is doing."

Brown said today he has spoken with 10 of 37 residents who signed a petition complaining of the noise. He said he invited them and told them to invite other petitioners to attend any one of the dances.

"I just want them to come to one of the dances and watch the youth of today—the way they enjoy themselves and the type of dancing they do. I also want them to see how well the dances are policed," he said.

Brown said there will be a dance from 8 p.m. to midnight today.

More Spraying Due Marshlands

Directors of the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District learned yesterday from Mgr. G. Paul Jones that all reclaimed marshlands in the district have been sprayed but that some may have to be sprayed again because the insecticides used have little residual action.

Jones also reported that bait traps for queen yellowjackets are being tried in some areas on an experimental basis. Theoretically, he explained, catching the queen destroys an entire nest.

Directors Clifton C. Cordes, Mrs. John M Douglas and E.van T Pugh were named to a salary committee which will report its decisions at the directors' April 14 meeting.

Santa Venetia Citizen Claims Sewage Harm

Albert R. Borden of 707 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, stormy petrel of special districts, has shifted his attention to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

It was Borden who initiated complaints against Gallinas Village Community Services District that led to a grand jury investigation.

Complaints against the sanitary district last night may not have brought exactly the results Borden wanted.

He asked the district for $1,000 a day for every day that sewage from a sanitary district bypass was backed up on his property. By his calculations, the total bill came to $5,700.

District workers, however, reported there was never any backup on Borden's property, said Mrs. Helen Foulkes, district secretary.

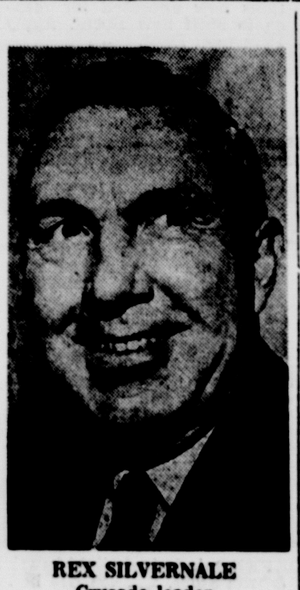

Directors decided to close the bypass behind Borden's home. This could mean that sewage may back up in Gallinas Village streets next time it rains.

"We hope it doesn't," Mrs. Foulkes said.

Directors of Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District last night also:

1. Cancelled the development agreement on Marinwood Oaks at request of developer Douglas M. Christensen. Construction of the town house tract has been delayed, Mrs. Roulkes said.

2. Reinstated term life insurance of $4,000 for each of the seven employees. The district pays the premium which totals $38 a month. Life insurance was dropped briefly when the district changed medical insurance carriers.

REX SILVERNALE
Crusade leader

Rex Silvernale To Head Marin Crusade Drive

Rex T. Silvernale last night was elected chairman of the Marin County contingent of the United Bay Area Crusade, with Carroll Walker as vice chairman.

Election was by Marin members of the crusade's board of trustees, under a new setup in which five Bay Area county funds were merged into a single organization.

Under the reorganization, Marin has 15 trustees on the UBAC policy-making board. In addition, eash United Crusade agency in Marin has a trustee representative.

Silvernale, president of Hutchinson Co., and Walker, an insurance man, also are serving on the UBAC board of directors, along with Mrs. Robert Kettenbach of Belvedere. Silvernale and Walker are both San Rafael residents.

Attorney S. J. Hugh Allen of San Rafael is a UBAC vice president, and Mrs. E. Gould Ingram of Belvedere is UBAC secretary.

Silvernale told new trustees meeting in the Marin office of UBAC in San Rafael that volunteer workers in the five counties—Marin, San Francisco, Alameda, San Mateo, and Contra Costa—last year raised nearly $13.5 million to help finance some 172 health, welfare, youth and planning agencies.

Goal for next fall's drive has not yet been set.

Silvernale appointed John D. LaNoue of San Rafael, district manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. who headed 1965's Marin campaign, as chairman of the leadership committee, and Gordon H. Dohemann, San Rafael real estate broker, to head the development committee.

Civic Affairs Council Elects New Chairman

Edward J. Neumeier of San Anselmo last night was named chairman of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, replacing Naphtali H. Knox.

He and two other officers were elected at a special meeting of directors, who were chosen last month by the general membership.

Mrs. Harry Lucheta was named vice-chairman, while Milen C. Dempster was re-elected treasurer.

Main purpose of the special session was to adopt a statement on proposed amendments to the county's planned community zone ordinance, but directors were unable to agree on the wording and named a three-man committee to iron it out.

The committee, made up of Knox, Harold Stockstad and Joseph E. Bodovitz, will submit its draft of the statement to directors at 8 p.m. Wednesday in room 209 of Marin Civic Center.

Neumeier said the final statement probably will support the ordinance changes, which have been approved by the county planning commission and will go before the board of supervisors March 29.

Council directors also agreed to co-sponsor "R. Buckminster Fuller Day" April 2, and said they would contribute $25 so Fuller can appear at three meetings that day at the College of Marin. The famed designer and engineer is spending two months at San Jose State College.

The Northern California Chapter, American Institute of Architects, is also expected to sponsor Fuller's appearances.

Second Trial Sends Inmate Back To Death Row Cell

A convicted killer was back on San Quentin's Death Row today after an unsuccessful bid to beat the gas chamber.

Williard A. Wenhoven, 55, of Los Angeles County, was returned to his old cell on the crowded topmost sixth floor of the north cell block.

Wenhoven and his crime partner, Ernest Lopez, 42, were convicted of the slaying of an assistant bank manager. They were granted a new penalty trial last March on the basis of the State Supreme Court's Morse decision.

Lopez's sentence was reduced to life, but Wenhoven's death sentence was confirmed.

In the Morse case, the court ruled that a new penalty trial must be granted because the jury had been told that if given a life sentence instead of death, the convict would be eligible for parole in seven years.

Wenhoven's return today brought the population of Death Row to 51. Ten condemned men are out of the row pending new trials.

Tuberculin Test Results Tallied

There were 11 reactors in the student tuberculin testing completed yesterday at Blessed Sacrament and St. Patrick's Parochial Schools, the Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn. reported today.

The seven reactors at Blessed Sacrament represents 2 per cent of the 332 completed tests. Total enrollment in grades one through eight is 363.

There were four reactors at St. Patrick's, or 1.55 per cent of the 257 children tested and read. Enrollment in this six-grade school is 282.

An average reactive rate of one per cent has been found in countywide school testing conducted by the TB association and the Marin Health Department.

A reaction, the association stressed, does not necessarily mean the reactor has TB. It does indicate he has been infected with tuberculosis germs.

To Craft Parley

Dominic Di Mare of Tiburon, a San Francisco art teacher, will participate with 25 artists, craftsmen, teachers and museum personnel in a conference on the "role of the crafts in education" March 23-26 at Buffalo, N.Y. Di Mare will also have work in an invitational show in Tucson, Ariz., and at the biennial ceramics show at Scripps College in Pomona.

Soil District Member Meet

About 65 members of Area 2, Assn. of Soil Conservation Districts, attended their spring meeting in Nicasio.

They were hosted by the Marin County Soil Conservation District.

Mendocino County Assessor Wilburn L. Brown headed the list of several speakers, according to district recording secretary Matt H. Klemmer. Brown discussed the state's new agricultural preserve act, which permits ranchers and farmers a break on assessments if they pledge not to permit subdivision of their land.

Auto Knocks Down, Bruises Girl, 17

A 17-year-old San Rafael girl escaped serious injury when she was knocked down by a car last night near the Marin Motel on the Highway 101 frontage road in north San Rafael.

Toni Fedoroff of 36 Elena Circle was treated in Marin General Hospital for multiple cuts and bruises. The car was driven by George L. Cosce, 29, of 11 Amicita Avenue, Mill Valley, police reported.

Coin Rack Suspect

Sausalito police placed a 17-year-old Marin City youth in county jail last night on a charge of petty theft after he reportedly was found with a pocket full of dimes, believed stolen from two newspaper racks near the Industrial Center building in Marinship.

Tomales Hits Unity Plan

The Tomales High School District Board last night voted to send a telegram to the State Board of Education meeting in Los Angeles today, objecting to the proposed unification of the Tomales district with a portion of Tamalpais High School District.

The board also voted to include in the telegram that it favored as a first alternative unification of the Tomales High School District with its elementary districts (already twice rejected by the state board) and as a second alternative the unification of the Tomales High School with the Petaluma High School District.

The Tomales High School District Board also:

1. Rented a portable building from Speedspace Corp. of Santa Rosa for $5,000 per year for a library, and hired Charlette Karotkin as librarian.

2. Heard from George Quesada, architect, that he hopes rehabilitation of the building will be approved by the State Division of Architecture in time to go to bid in April.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Doctors Explain The Meaning Method Of Gas, Germ Warfare

VAN DELLEN

Physicians for Social Responsibility was founded "with the purpose of studying the dilemma in which the world now finds itself and, if possible, helping to develop a responsible course of action." In a recent issue of the New England Journal of Medicine two of their members updated us on chemical (gas) and biologic (germ) warfare.

MOST OF THE AGENTS now available differ from those used in previous wars. Some are incapacitating, nonlethal, and relatively ineffective; others are lethal or crippling.

During war, military leaders usually select the most effective—the lethal varieties. This type of war usually is aimed at the civilian population because more damage can be done by disabling millions of industrial workers in densely populated areas.

Chemical and biologic warfare is not new. The aborigines used poisoned arrows and the Spartans burned sulfur and pitch to form sulfur dioxide. Poisoning wine, food and water is centuries old. Lethal gases were used in World War I.

Smoke, flame, and incendiaries were used in World War II, but not chemicals. The atomic bomb was not only highly explosive, but killed through radiation. Irritating, nonlethal gases are being used against the Viet Cong, as well as chemicals toxic to plants.

THE NEWER nerve gases are colorless and odorless organic phosphates; some are tasteless. Small amounts produce sneezing, tearing, and shortness of breath. Higher concentrations lead to vomiting, paralysis, and death.

They are 30 times as toxic as phosgene and 14 times that of mustard gas. A single inhalation can kill.

Biologic warfare employs living organisms or their toxic products. It is aimed at causing death, disability, or disease in man, animals, plants, or food supplies. Biologic weapons are excellent for sabotage.

They have a delayed action and are difficult to detect. The best protective devices include filters, sanitary measures, immunization and medical treatment.

Let us hope that we never get involved in such inhumane weaponry.

Peking Admits To Earthquake

LONDON (UPI) —Communist China acknowledged today that a "strong earthquake" last Tuesday hit the northernmost province of Hopeh, where Peking is situated.

The report by the New China News Agency did not mention casualties or indicate how hard Peking itself may have been hit.

However, the agency said the quake had a magnitude of 9 on a 12-point international scale at its epicenter. This would have made it 7.0, or slightly less than the great Alaskan earthquake two years ago which registered 8.7 on the Richter scale.

Officer Charles S. Brobeck, who found the boy walking on the east side of Highway 101 at 2 a.m., said the substance could be the "dream drug" LSD.

When Brobeck found the bag, he reported, the boy claimed it contained powdered sugar. But, said the officer, "There is very good reason to believe that the substance is not powdered sugar."

The boy was booked at county juvenile hall on charges of violating curfew and being beyond parental control. The powder was sent to be analyzed at the state narcotics inforcement bureau in San Francisco.

WARREN, Mich. (AP) — Gently, Lawrence Lyden awakened his daughter, Lois, 18.

Word of the death of Dennis, 20, in action in Viet Nam had reached the Lyden home only moments before.

When Dennis fell Saturday, it was the second time he had been wounded. The last time he recovered and returned to the fighting lines. He was one of eight Lyden children.

TELEVISION REVIEW

War In Viet Nam Getting Into Focus

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Network television's attention to the Viet Nam war is growing. Special broadcasts, present and future, abound. And there are fresh attempts to get the subject into focus.

A heavy emphasis on Viet Nam is naturally employed in the evening newscasts of CBS-TV's Walter Cronkite, NBC-TV's Chet Huntley and David Brinkley, and ABC-TV's Peter Jennings.

In addition, Viet Nam is the overriding topic, one way or another, in such weekly interview shows as ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers," NBC-TV's "Meet The Press" and CBS-TV's "Face The Nation."

This Sunday, Vice President Humphrey will be questioned in a one-hour session of "Meet The Press" by some of the nation's leading publishers and editors.

On March 20, Secretary of State Dean Rusk is the guest on "Face The Nation."

CBS-TV, the first of the networks to enter into the area of discussion and opinion programs concerning Viet Nam, provided the earliest major television attempts to get focused on the issue.

ABC-TV recently converted its weekly half-hour public affairs series, "ABC Scope," into a program devoted exclusively to coverage of Viet Nam, and thereby has achieved some added focus.

Now NBC-TV, on April 17, will begin a regular Sunday broadcast, a half-hour long, called "The Viet Nam Weekly Review," which will try to put the war's developments into "proper perspective."

One of the problems of the viewer who cares nothing about network rivalry, and wants only to be presented with meaningful Viet Nam broadcasts, is that television competition makes it tough on him.

With each network trying to outdo the other, the viewer who flips the dial to all the shows that he can will find himself amid large doses of data that seem to be presented helter-skelter.

It may sound heretical because of normal network — and business —rivalry, but the subject of Viet Nam is so important that it might not be amiss for ABC, CBS and NBC to get together and decide how to do what is best for the viewer.

That, after all, is the most important point of the matter.

Futuristic Jet Takes Hot Ride

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (UPI)—The No. 2 XB-70 flew Wednesday at a sustained maximum speed of 2.76 times the speed of sound for 54 minutes in an aerodynamic "heat soak" test, the Air Force reported.

The heat produced by sustained air friction at 1,700 miles an hour warmed the six-engine Delta wing plane's surfaces to 445 degrees. The test was conducted at an altitude of 67,000 feet.

The temperature and speed during the test were approximately the same as that of future supersonic transport planes.

Drake Loses Toughie, Faces Sonoma Tonight

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Drake High School's Pirates came an eyelash away from the upset of the day at the Tournament of Champions basketball classic in Berkeley yesterday.

The Bucs lost to perennial champ McClymonds of Oakland 51-47 in the best game of the opening day card of four. It was a hard defeat to swallow, considering the Pirates led by three points with a little more than three minutes to go.

It was the last game on the program, with all four favored teams moving into the championship bracket. Lincoln of San Francisco drubbed Sonoma 78-47, Berkeley whipped Washington of Fremont 59-53, and Arroyo of San Leandro thumped Salesian of Richmond 71-63.

In semi-final action today, in the first consolation game, 4:30 p.m., followed by Drake vs. Salesian and Washington meet Sonoma at 6 p.m. In the championship bracket, it's Arroyo vs. Berkeley at 7:30 p.m. and McClymonds vs. Lincoln at 9 o'clock.

That Drake-McClymonds game was a tight duel all the way and at the threequarter mark the fans in University of California's Harmon Gym were getting all set to see a big upset, as the final eight-minute period started with Drake in front, 33-31.

McClymonds finally caught up at 37-37, but big Bob Tobin scored two free throws to put the Pirates back on top by two. It went back and forth until Jerry Sprout tapped in two straight buckets to put the Bucs in front by three, 44-41, with 3 minutes and 15 seconds showing on the clock.

But then McClymonds' guard William Smith came roaring back with a pair of charity tosses and a 15-footer and the Warriors were in front by one. When it looked as if the Bucs were going to get back the lead, McClymonds' Nate Williams stole a Drake pass and roared down the lane for an easy layup.

Drake guard Will Curley, who made some dazzling plays and left defenders reeling, hit a free throw to put the Pirates down by two, 4745. Then Drake got life when a "palming" call went against McClymonds, giving the Pirates possession. They tried to set up a shot, but instead, the quick Williams ended up with the ball and drove in for another layup, putting the game out of reach.

With only seconds left, Lee Matthews scored a pair of charities for McClymonds and Tobin made a couple for Drake. But by then, the people were already starting to file out of the gym.

The 65 Tobin had another great night, leading his team in scoring with 16 points and in rebounding, with 10. He went 4 for 8 from the field and canned all of his 8 free throws.

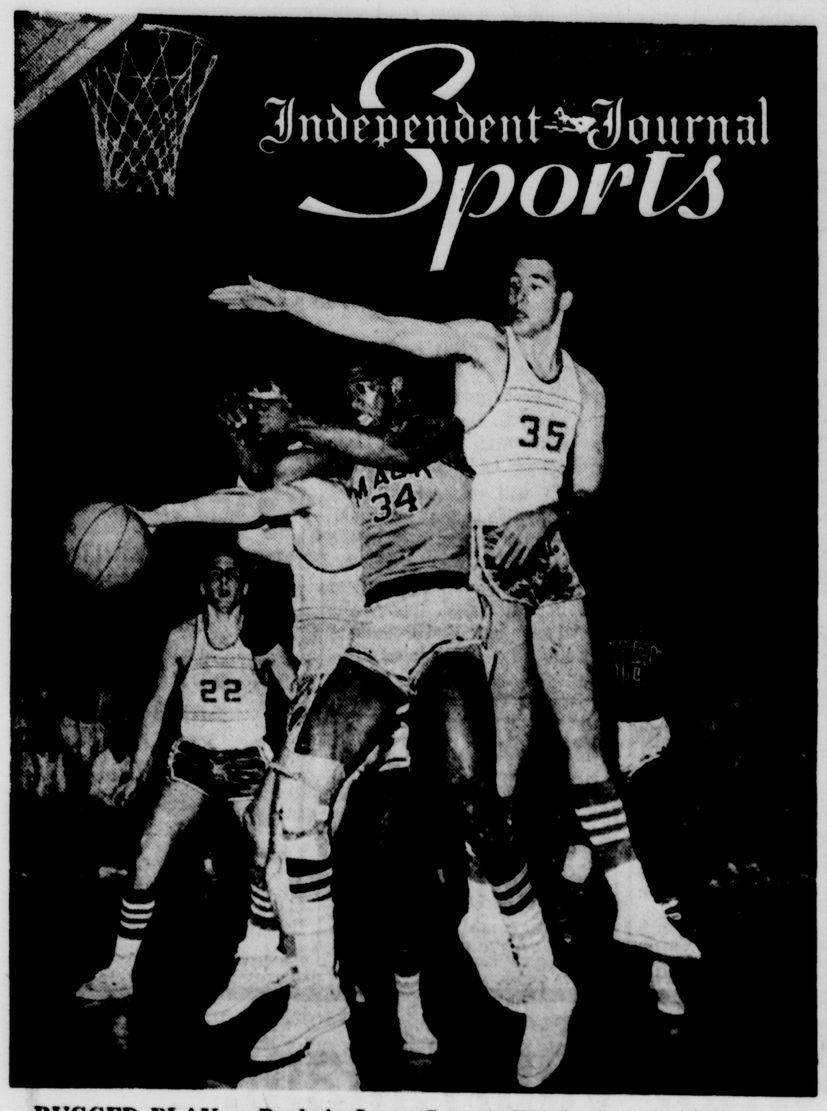

Curley, the floor leader for the Pirates, added 12 points, and Bill Ingram, the other guard, scored 8, in addition to making some fine defensive plays. Sprout had 8 rebounds and 8 points.

For McClymonds, it was the scoring of Williams, 18 points worth, and the rebounding of its big three, Williams (9), William Colbert (12) and 6-6 Thomas Bell (9).

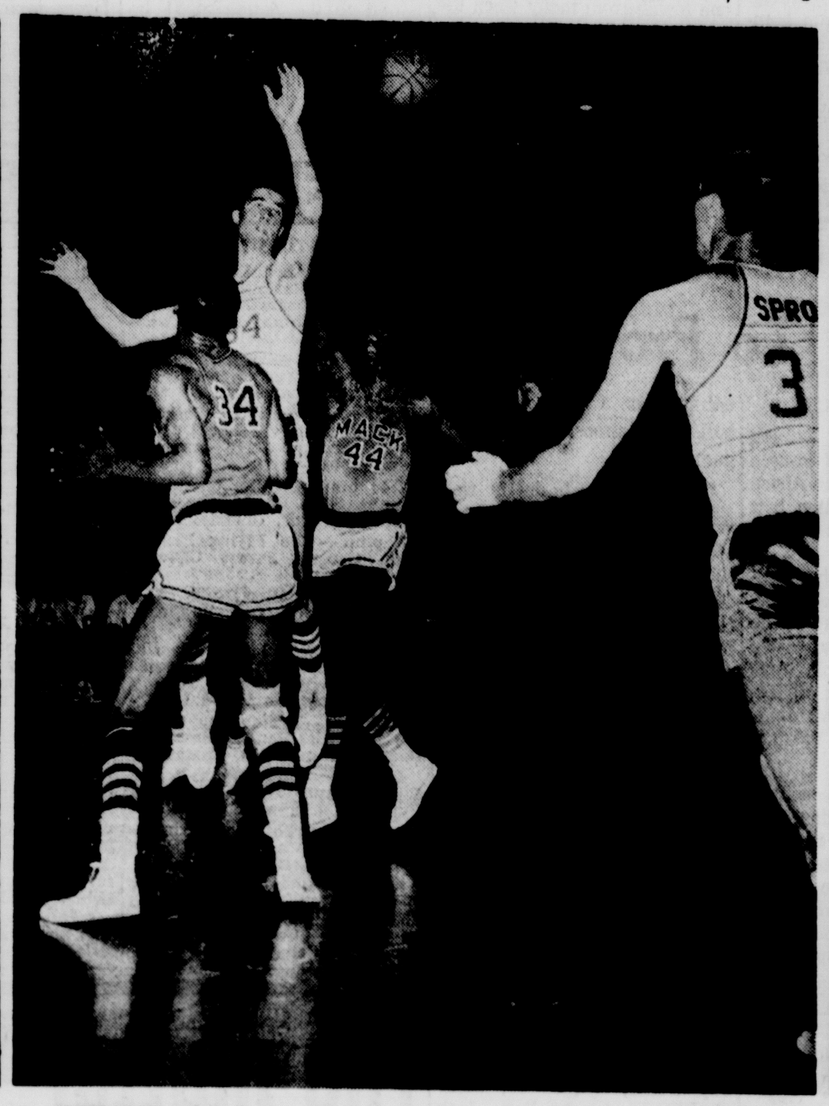

Teamwise, Drake only lost by one in the rebounding department, 36-35. The Pirates made 16 of 45 shots from the floor (40 per cent) to McClymonds' 18 of 55 (33 per cent). The Warriors made 15 of 22 free throws (68 per cent) to Drake's 11 of 19 (58 per cent).

Drake played a whale of a defensive game, forcing McClymonds to do much of its shooting from outside and causing them to make mistakes, especially in the first half.

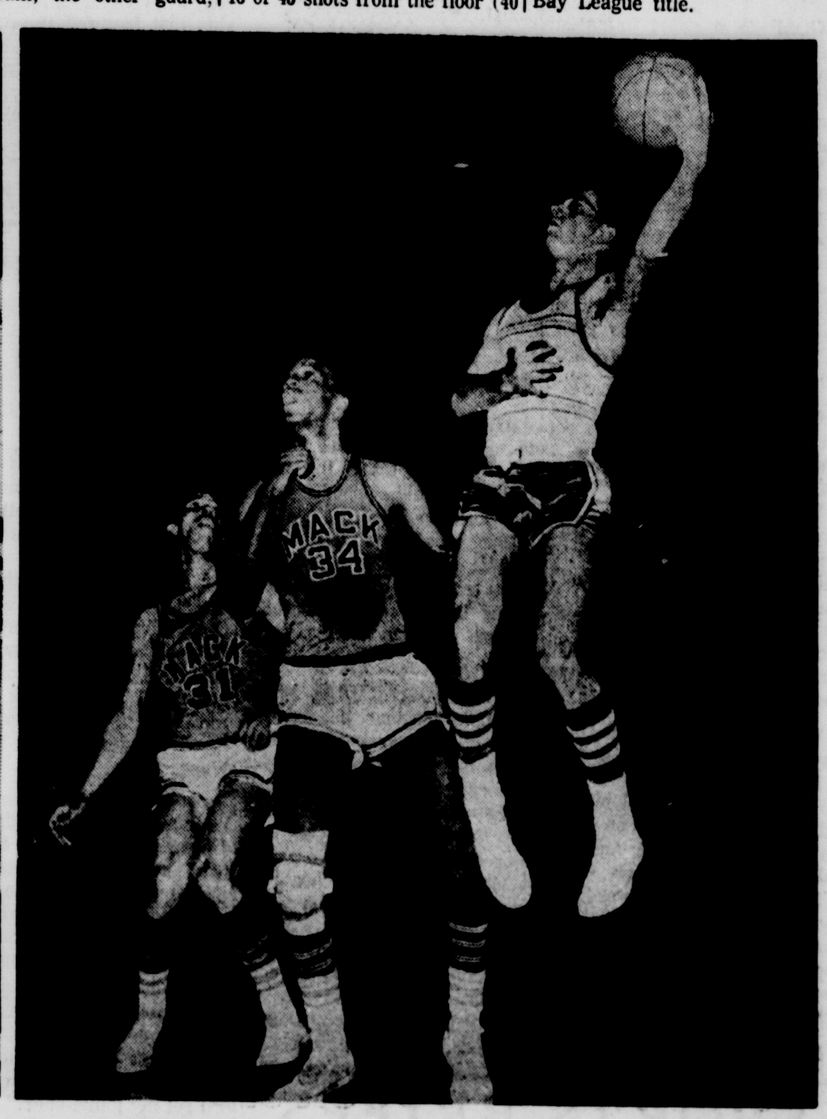

The Pirates should find things much easier today against Sonoma, winner of the North Bay League title.

RUGGED PLAY — Drake's Jerry Sprout (35) jumps over McClymonds' Thomas Bell for rebound in rugged first quarter action last night at Berkeley. Drake's Bob Tobin, whose arm is seen grabbing ball, wound up with it. That's Bill Ingram (22) watching from background.

PRETTY PASS—Bob Tobin of Pirates leaps to throw left-handed pass to teammate Jerry Sprout in foreground in fourth period of Tournament of Champions thriller. Mack players are Tom Hill (34) and William Colbert (44).

A BEAUTY — Ambidextrous Will Curley, Drake's captain, made this spectacular left handed hook shot in fourth quarter as Tom Bell (34) and Bill Smith (31) watched. In spit of heroics by many Pirates, McClymonds rallied to win, 51-47.

Drake Coach Proud Of Team: 'Nothing To Be Ashamed Of'

DRAKE BASKETBALL Coach Carl "Red" Brown has suffered numerous setbacks in his coaching career, but non could have been as heartbreaking as last night's 47-51 loss to McClymonds in the opening round of the Tournament of Champions.

Still, the Pirate mentor could find nothing but praise for his boys who came this ( ) close to upsetting the perennial Oakland Athletic League powerhouse.

"We represented a good, well-balanced league and we represented it well," the 50-year-old former bartender declared as he readied his team for its consolation game against Sonoma tonight. "We have nothing to be ashamed of. I thought we could have won, but that's just one of those thing."

PRESSED TO explain where the Macks beat his Pirates, Brown pointed to two stolen passes late in the fourth quarter that brought the Oaklanders from a three-point deficit into the victory. "But," Brown added, "the thing that really killed us came early in the game. We weren't screening out too well and their big kid (Tom Colbert) got behind us under the basket and scored a few buckets on rebounds. That got them off to an early lead. After we adjusted, we held them pretty well, I thought."

The red-headed Brown, who wore a bright green blazer, singled out Bob Tobin, his 6-foot-5 senior center, for "an all around fine game."

HE ALSO cited Captain Will Curley, the bespectacled play-making guard, along with forward Jerry Sprout and guard Bill Ingram.

"Curley," said Brown, "didn't shoot enough in the first half. We talked to him at halftime, so he really came on strong in the third quarter to put us in the lead.

"SPROUT GOT bad tomach cramps in the first half and I had to take him out about five minutes. That hurt. He was Johnny-on-the-spot for us on some crucial rebounds. Scored eight points.

"Ingram played his usual fine game. He's strong and aggressive."

Brown, who also is a member of the San Rafael Board of Education, added, "I think we can beat Sonoma tonight. They're good shooters, but I think we have a better club."

IF DRAKE wins tonight, it will return to play a consolation game at 5 p.m. tomorrow. A loss tonight would eliminate the Pirates.

Super Sleuth Works On Giant Mystery

PHOENIX, Ariz., (AP) — San Francisco's Giants called on an old sleuth today to solve a mystery of 1965.

Why, they ask, did pitcher Gaylord Perry have a 6-4 record on June 9 and 8-12 when the season ended?

How did he pitch a three-hitter against Cincinnati on May 27 and a two-hitter against St. Louis on May 31 and yet give up three runs on three hits without getting a man out in his final appearance on Oct. 1?

Solving the mystery will be the task of 66-year-old Frank Shellenback, officially a scout with the Giants and unofficially the pitching coach emeritus.

Shellenback arrived in Phoenix yesterday and his No. 1 assignment will be Gaylord Perry.

"He got mixed up last year," says Manager Herman Franks of the right-hander he has named to start against Cleveland at Tucson on Saturday in the Giants' first spring exhibition game.

Pitching coach Larry Jansen has been working with Perry, and Frank Bergonzi has shown him motion pictures made when he was winning and when he was losing.

Bergonzi is listed as the official traffic manager for the club, but he also is a camera bug.

Now taking a turn is Shellenback, who was born before most of the current Giants' fathers. He'll watch and he'll make suggestions based on active years as a pitcher and many more as a coach.

Franks continues to run his club through routine spring drills and vice president Charles (Chub) Feeney continues trying to reach an accord with holdout pitchers Juan Marichal and Bob Shaw.

Feeney talked with Marichal yesterday and said the two still were more than $10,000 apart.

This means the right-hander from the Dominican Republic apparently asks $80,000, a boost of $20,000 from his 1965 salary. Shaw, apparently asking $50,000, seems nearer an accord.

Marichal bases his demands on the fact he is the only major league hurler to win 20 or more games the past three seasons. The Giants recall he lost his final three starts when they were fighting for the 1966 National League pennant, which they lost to Los Angeles by two games.

Now It's Chuvalo Vs. Clay March 29

TORONTO (AP) —Ernie Terrell is out as the opponent of champion Cassius Clay in the scheduled world heavyweight title bout here March 29.

George Chuvalo, the Canadian champion, was expected to be named today as his replacement.

Terrell was dropped as Clay's opponent last night by Mike Malitz, executive vice president of Main Bout, Inc., which holds the ancillary rights.

"His demands were too exorbitant," Malitz said at Atlantic City, N.J., after a three-hour conference with Terrell in an effort to iron out their differences.

Terrell rejected Wednesday the new contract offered him by the Maple Leaf Gardens, but left the door open for negotiation. He and Malitz met at his training camp in Pleasantville, N.J.

"His demands were unreasonable and exorbitant in view of the conditions prevailing," Malitz said. "He thinks he is the heavyweight champion of the world which we do not think he is. And while we do not condone any statement made by Clay in regard to his being reclassified 1-A in the draft, titles are still won in the ring and not by words."

Terrell, recognized as champion by the World Boxing Assn., did not take into consideration the changed conditions, a spokesman for Main Bout said

"Many of the theaters counted on for the closed telecast of the fight have canceled because of Clay's comments on the war in Viet Nam," the spokesman said. "Terrell was asked if he would accept $75,000 guarantee from all sources plus training expenses but he turned it down."

"More power to him," Terrell declared when he learned of Malitz's statement that he had been dropped.

"All we asked for what the terms in the original Chicago contract where we were guaranteed $50,000 from the live gate, $100,000 from the ancillary receipts and $12,500 in training expenses."

Permission to hold the fight in Chicago was withdrawn thus leading to a new contract when Maple Leaf Gardens agreed to hold the fight.

Marin Swimmers Defeat Broncos

College of Marin's swimming team defeated the University of Santa Clara varsity, 64-30, but lost to the San Jose State Frosh, 33-53, Wednesday in competition at San Jose.

Marin's first place winners in the victory over Santa Clara were 400 medley relay, 4:12.5; Ken Jones, 50 free, 25.2; Steve Hoxie, 200 butterfly, 2:30.6; Bill Anderson, 100 free, 53.7; Dean Ferrandini, 200 back, 2:21.9; Tom Knopf, 500 free, 5:38.9; Dusty Benedict, 200 breast, 2:43.5; 400 free relay, 3:47.9.

RACING'S 'SUNNY JIM' FITZSIMMONS DIES, 91

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—James E. "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons, 91, the grand old man of American horse racing, died today at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital.

Known affectionately as "Mr. Fitz" of "Sunny Jim," Fitzsimmons had devoted more than 75 years to riding and training horses. He saddled winners everywhere from the half-mile tracks on the "leaky roof" circuit, where he sometimes went without a meal to see that his horses were fed, to the "Big A"—the multimillion-dollar Aqueduct track in New York.

He retired in 1963.

He developed two winners of racing's triple crown—Gallant Fox in 1930 and Omaha in 1935—and 10 others that won one or more of those three classics, the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont. Sunny Jim saddled the winners of 2,275 races and his charges earned $13,982,911.

Lucky Golf To Continue Despite Two-Year Loss

Plans are going ahead for a 1967 Lucky International Open golf tournament in San Francisco despite losses the past two years.

John J. Keane, the tournament chairman, reported yesterday that the $57,500 event this year lost $5,780, primarily due to some inclement weather. In 1964, the loss was $2,082.

Keane added, however, that "General Brewing, the sponsor, considers the 1966 Lucky International a success. We're currently negotiating a contract with the Professional Golfers' Assn. for the 1967 Lucky."

The 1966 event was on its way to financial success when rain washed out the third round on Saturday, Jan. 29. On Sunday, officials honored all Saturday tickets and a final round was played Monday, when San Franciscan Ken Venturi captured the title.

Keane said income was $112,486.14 and expenses were $118,266.14.

Since the tournament was staged as a benefit for three Boys' Clubs, the sponsors contributed $10,000 to that fund.

Pacific Launches NCAA Title Bid

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Western regional title and a shot at the national collegiate basketball championship will be at stake when four university teams begin tonight two nights of action in Pauley Pavilion at UCLA.

Utah and Pacific meet in the first game at 7 p.m., PST, and Houston and Oregon State collide at 9.

The winners play tomorrow night at 9, preceded by the two left in the consolation game.

The Western titleholder goes on to the national championship finals at College Park, Md., March 18-19.

Pacific, the surprise in the West Coast Athletic Conference after knocking off highly favored San Francisco, has the best win-loss record of the four, 22-4.

It is Pacific's first appearance ever in the NCAA regionals and Coach Dick Edwards' hopes rely primarily on the play of his towering center, 6-foot-7 Keith Swagerty. Swagerty's 570 points and 21.9 average leads the team.

Utah, the Western Conference winner, coached by Jack Gardner, features Jerry Chambers. He scored 749 points, and averaged 27.7 in the Utes' 21-6 season.

It will be the ball control defense of Oregon State against the offensive strength of Houston in the nightcap.

Coach Guy Lewis of Houston has fielded an aggressive outfit led by Elvin Hayes, a center who stands 6-8, weighs 225 and scored 744 points in the Cougars' 22-5 season. His average was 27.6.

Oregon State, 20-6, winner of the Pacific Athletic Conference and the team which bounced UCLA out of the national championship picture, as well as the playoffs, is primarily a defensive outfit, statistically the best in the country.

Paul Valenti, the coach, in just his second year as boss of the Beavers, features Loy Peterson, who scored 341 points and averaged 13.1. But OSU supporters are quick to point out that this was a five-man team effort all the way.

Hamilton Boxer In 'World' Finals

Joe Garcia, light welterweight representing Hamilton Air Force Base, will fight Woodrow Haney of Little Rock AFB, Ark. tonight in the finals of the World-Wide Air Force Boxing Championship at Hamilton.

Garcia stopped Marvin Powers of Myrtle Beach AFB, South Carolina, in the third round of their semi-final bout last night.

The only other Hamilton boxer to gain the semi-finals, heavyweight Tom Quick, lost a decision to Malvin Walker of the Air Training Command.

Tonight's 10-bout finals card at Hamilton's North Rec Hall will start at 8 o'clock. The public is welcome, admission free.

Play Golf? You Probably Cheat!

So, now, Gay Brewer—it says here—is the Pensacola Open golf champion.

Not with the low net winner of the Oddfellows Bar and Grill annual invitational. Not with the Triple Martinis Hookers and Slicers weekend foursome I belong to.

The only thing Gay did better than Doug Sanders in that open is write his name. They should give him a trophy for penmanship, not golf.

GOLF IS a game barnacled by a sillier set of rules than courtship in the Old South. It's a "gentleman's" game. English translation: nobody trusts anybody.

You all know what the "honor system" is? It's where an honest man doesn't stand a chance. Joe Dey, himself, head of the USGA and the nearest thing we have to "Mr. Golf," says that 95 per cent of all golfers cheat. He's being Pollyanna-ish about it. Like, where did he find that other 5 pct.?

GOLF RULES are predicated on the premise that everybody cheats. What's that you say? YOU don't?

You don't!? Listen! Did you ever hit a shot off in the woods and then traipse around for 20 minutes and not find it and murmur: "I'll just drop one here on the fairway and take a stroke. Don't want to hold anybody up. I'm sure we could find it if we took the time."

YOU CHEAT, baby. The rules say you have 5 minutes to find a lost ball and then you have to go back to the tee and hit another. Which may end up twice as lost as the first one. And you take two strokes, not one.

Did you ever pull a weed out by the roots, snap off a sapling, make your ball move by clearing acorns out from behind so you could make a shot. You cheat, babe.

EVER PLAY the wrong ball? And then just go back and play the right one? That's two strokes, baby. Or the loss of the hole. Unless, of course, you cheat.

Ever nestle your ball in the base of a tree and a companion says, "You can move it out of there, just no nearer to the hole is all." So you toss the pellet 15 yards out in the fairway. In the first place, you CAN'T move it. In the second place, if you could, it's two club lengths, not two first-down markers. But you cheat.

EVER ASK your fellow players for advice on a shot? That's cheating, babe.

Ever take a "Mulligan"? Boy, do you cheat!

ALL SANDERS did was forget to sign his card. The gang I play with, if that's the worst they ever did, nobody would ever break a hundred.

Doug was actually on an altruistic errand. He was in the press tent, aiding golf generally, aiding the tournament directly. He had not even left the premises.

IT'S NO secret Doug is not the most popular pro on the tour. It's no secret, either, that some big names of golf have been caught cheating in the past.

The names would surprise you but this paper's lawyers are busy enough.

Doug didn't even cheat. At least, not this time. His worst crime was absent-mindedness. If golf's intent was to make him a martyr, they are to be congratulated. Never mind "Arnie's Army." Make way for "Doug's Divisions."

SPRING EXHIBITION BASEBALL ACTION

Yankees Flash Old Power In Opener

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Keane's new-look Yankees were ferocious enough to pass for the oldtime variety as baseball's spring training exhibition season got underway.

But first impressions can be deceiving. The New Yorkers, perennial American League champions until last season, won their first five exhibition games a year ago and wound up with their worst regular season record in 40 years.

So don't blame Keane for not getting too excited about yesterday's 7-4 victory over Washington that featured two-run homers by Joe Pepitone and Clete Boyer and three airtight innings by Bob Friend, making his first appearance in a Yankee uniform.

The Yankees, playing without power hitters Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris and Tommy Tresh, sprayed 11 hits off four Washington pitchers. Both Pepitone and Boyer connected in the fourth inning against Frank Kreutzer.

Friend, acquired in a winter trade with Pittsburgh for righty Pete Mikkelsen, worked the first three innings and limited the Senators to three singles. John Orsino and Ken Hamlin homered for Washington.

Keane will appreciate that kind of performance a lot more one month from today when the regular season opens.

Four other exhibition games opened the Citrus season. The defending American League champion Minnesota Twins wiped out a 6-0 Houston lead but bowed to the Astros in 11 innings 7-6. Leo Cardenas' three-run homer powered Cincinnati's 5-3 victory over Kansas City. The Chicago White Sox shaded Boston 4-3 and Cleveland battled to a 1-1 tie with the Mexico City Tigers in a game halted after five innings by rain.

Jerry Kindall, playing at first base, bobbled Walt Bond's bouncer, permitting Sonny Jackson to score Houston's winning run against Minnesota in the 11th inning.

Don Mincher had three hits including a home run for the Twins.

Cardenas' homer broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth inning and lifted the Reds past Kansas City. The shot came off reliever Jack Aker who had just taken over for Roland Sheldon.

Three Cincinnati pitchers — Sammy Ellis, Jim O'Toole and Dom Zanni — limited the A's to three hits.

The White Sox scored the winning run against Boston on a fourth inning double steal with Tom McCraw swiping home.

Rookie Bill Voss, who stole two bases, broke for second and McCraw for home with two out in the fourth and the maneuver worked.

Johnny Romano drove in the first two Chicago runs with a bases-loaded double in the first inning against Earl Wilson.

Vic Davalillo's 400-foot home run accounted for Cleveland's only run against Mexico City. Luis Tiant pitched three scoreless innings for the Indians.

Baltimore, on the prowl for catching help after losing regular Dick Brown for the season because of an operation, picked up veteran Camilo Carreon from Cleveland in a trade for outfielder Lou Piniella and cash.

Carreon was on the Pacific Coast League Portland roster and Piniella had been assigned to Rochester of the International League.

DORAL OPENER

Nicklaus Rusty In Return To Pro Tour

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Big Jack Nicklaus has been so used to shooting birds in South Africa that he's almost forgotten how to bag birdies, but he's not losing any sleep over it.

"I'll be ready for the Masters," the 210-pound Columbus, Ohio, slugger said today as he started the second round of the $100,000 Doral Open Golf Tournament 12 strokes back of Kermit Zarley, the young dark-horse leader from Yakima, Wash.

Zarley, 24-year-old college champion while attending the University of Houston, took the lead yesterday with a seven-under-par 65, equalling the tournament record set by Doug Sanders last year. Nicklaus was more than 100 names back with an un-Nicklaus-like 77.

"So what?" Nicklaus said with a shrug of his shoulders. "Golf isn't my whole life. I enjoyed the trip to South Africa. I'll get my game back."

Nicklaus, the leading money winner the last two years, also is unconcerned that he has spotted his chief rival, Arnold Palmer, $14,412.50 starting the 1966 season. That's what Palmer has won with his comeback. Jack has won nothing.

"I'm not competing with anybody for money winning honors," Nicklaus said.

Jack's rustiness was evident in the opening round of the Doral — his first tournament since the Crosby in late January. He returned Wednesday from South Africa where he spent six weeks playing golf, hunting and fishing with Gary Player.

"You might say I haven't played any golf since the Crosby," Nicklaus added. "I played on strange courses with different grasses. I used the small ball. It's almost a different game.

"Surprisingly, I drove well here. I just didn't have any finesse. I kept hitting wedge shots into the traps. But I'll play Orlando and Jacksonville, skip Greensboro and go to Augusta for a week of practice. I'll be ready."

Nicklaus is defending champion and a two-time winner in the Masters, but he will face a determined Palmer who has won four times — every even year since 1958.

Palmer, with a victory, two seconds and a third on the winter tour, rallied yesterday after two bogeys and shot a 69 — with an eagle at the eighth — to remain in the running.

Zarley, who canned eight birdies and bogeyed only one hole, had a one-stroke lead over Tommy Jacobs and putting whiz Jay Dolan, tied at 66; three strokes on Johnny Pott, Jack McGowan and Gordon Jones, bracketed at 68, and four on Palmer, Phil Rodgers and Ken Still.

Defending champion Doug Sanders and Tony Lema were tied at 74. Former U.S. Open king Ken Venturi and Gay Brewer Jr., were another shot back at 75.

Seals Deal Goalie To The Maple Leafs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Seals have dealt their reserve goal tender, John Henderson, to the Victoria Maple Leafs and recalled Doug Favell from Oklahoma City.

Favell will understudy Jack McCartan, who has been the Seals regular goalie most of the season.

Details of the Henderson deal were not disclosed, but Seals general manager Bud Poile said it would be completed this spring at the annual hockey meeting in Montreal.

Henderson played in 10 games this season and allowed 39 goals.

GO-GO-GO — Drake songleaders Dolly Maloney, Patti Pearce and Marianna Mitchell yelled up a storm when one of their heroes made a basket. They'll be back at Berkeley tonight to cheer the Pirates in consolation action.

(Independent-Journal photos)

DRAKE MASCOT—Things were going pretty good at this stage of last night's game as Drake's team mascots gave the V-for-vicotry sign. McClymonds rallied to win, however, and there was no joy in Pirateville.

Glowing Reports On Rockfish, Salmon, Stripers, Catfish Etc.

STEVENS

Seems like the present pursuers of the piscatorial pastime are in luck. Be the prey rockfish, salmon, stripers, cats, big mouth or small mouth blackies, or the bottom hugging flatties, results have been good to excellent.

After the above glowing report, it behooves one to pass along some congratulations to the rockfishing addicts aboard the Reel Special—438 rockfish, 98 lings to 35 pounds. . . . To the boys and gals and small fry who fished from the Blue Horizon out of Sausalito—400 rockfish (mostly nice red snappers) for 20 working rods and 25 lings to 25 pounds. Betty Urbais, who phoned in her report, also mentioned some fair to good salmon trolling by the Inabelle, the Chief and the New Merimac. "Weather was just perfect and the fishing good," said Betty.

The men and maids who sent bullheads out after striped bass had a good weekend for the most part with, of course, the usual number of unlucky anglers who failed to make the grade. Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina said "About 70 per cent made the grade off Buoy 5 and the Pump House area. Also behind Buoy 3 and the flats at Hercules. Mostly the fish ran in the 16 to 18 pound class. Top fish on Sunday was a 31-pounder."

Bennett also gave honorable mention to "Chuck" Manuell, G. Dalporto, who boated 18 and 20 pound stripers from the Buoy 8 area; also the Ken Rills are again heard from this time with two nice sturgeon and legal limits of stripers.

Mel Toppance called to report his scouting trip to Lake Berryessa where he and Nick Poppin took limits of blackies. Suggested to others who will be trying their luck to try using a Heddon Sonic and a Bayou Boogie lure trolled deep, at least eight feet below the surface.

Mel and Nick worked upstream at the mouth of Putah Creek, and across the lake along the shoreline—"Tell your readers to let out plenty of line astern of the boat, 100 to 150 yards of line is not too much. Work points close to shore," advised Mel.

Mel added a word of advice. "Best that a fellow wait about three weeks yet before fishing will be really hot at Lake Berryessa."

Look! Any of you folks who have a special method of baking, boiling, or frying sturgeon, tell me about it, will ya? Have received several requests for such recipes. Thanks!

400 Coaches At Redwood Grid Clinic

More than 400 high school coaches are expected to attend the 12th annual Redwood Football Clinic at the Corte Madera Recreation Center tomorrow, clinic manager Bob Troppmann of Redwood High announced today.

Other speakers will be Biff Crawley of San Leandor High's Alameda County Athletic League champions; Al Cementina of James Lick in San Jose, undefeated Hamilton League champions; Bill Holland of Lincoln, the San Francisco winner; Al Lubamersky of Washington High, San Francisco; Bruno Pelligrini of Vallejo High's North Bay League champions and Ray DeJong of South San Francisco High, the North Peninsula League winner.

Lester Returns To Ring Wars Tonight

OAKLAND (AP) — "Hitting the guitar helped strengthen the fingers," says middleweight boxer Jimmy Lester who tonight makes his first start since breaking his hand in knocking out Florentino Fernandez.

Lester fights Mexico's Aristo Chavarin at the Oakland Auditorium. The No. 5 ranked challenger, Lester rates a heavy favorite even though he's been out of action since his second round kayo of Fernandez last Oct. 20.

The 21-year-old San Franciscan strums the guitar as part of his rock 'n' roll singing act.

"I've been getting chances to do some singing in a few night spots," he says, but admits to being a better fighter than singer.

Chavarin, from Los Mochis, and Lester are scheduled for 10 rounds.
